Federal Handling Of Salk Vaccine Probed

Demos Charge Alarm Caused By 'Muddling'

House Unit To Quiz Scheele On Why He Reversed Himself

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—Democrats in Congress today launched two inquiries into the Eisenhower administration's handling of the Salk polio vaccine. Some of them charged "muddling" and confusion are causing public alarm.

Democratic Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee, however, said he felt reassured after a "profitable" meeting with Secretary of Welfare Hobby and Surgeon Gen. Leonard A. Scheele. Clement, who headed a delegation from the conference of state governors, declared:

"I am very optimistic that the Salk vaccine will stand as an effective weapon against polio."

These repercussions came as the U. S. Public Health Service, headed by Scheele, set up machinery for quick stage-by-stage release of Salk vaccine "frozen" by Scheele over the weekend. The nationwide program of inoculating school children came to a virtual standstill pending this safety recheck by federal inspectors.

Mrs. Hobby Asked To Testify

The House Banking Committee called Scheele for questioning Wednesday and invited Mrs. Hobby, who has over-all charge of health activities, to testify also. It was not certain whether Mrs. Hobby would appear.

Chairman Spence (D-Ky) said he wanted to find out why Scheele reversed himself and halted mass vaccinations only a few hours after telling the committee last Friday the program should continue.

Spence praised Scheele as a "good public servant, doing the best he can in a tough spot." But he said the halt in vaccinations "has caused a lot of apprehension among parents" and "we think we are entitled to an explanation."

Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash) announced the Senate Commerce Committee, which he heads, will start an investigation next Monday into what he called "muddled confusion" in federal handling of the vaccine.

"Black Marketing" Feared

Magnuson said in a statement: "If we are not convinced that standards and procedures are sufficient, we will immediately initiate legislation to halt its unregulated distribution in interstate commerce.

"By setting the date ahead one week we are giving the agencies involved sufficient time to work out the solution themselves. If they don't, the Congress will have to step in."

Magnuson expressed fear of "black marketing" in Salk vaccine. So did Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn). Kefauver said he would introduce legislation freezing all vaccine, except that contracted for by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, and putting it under ration control.

U.S. Elbe Vets, Soviets Drink Toasts To Peace

MOSCOW, May 9 (AP)—Nine American veterans of the 1945 Elbe River link - up with the Russians whirled around Moscow today — wining, dining and sightseeing. They exchanged good will toasts with Russian soldiers. One toast was: "We hope our children never again have to fight as we did."

After a three-hour luncheon at the Red Army Club, Byron L. Shiver of Lakeland, Fla., said he joined in expressing the peace sentiment with a Red army veteran who has four children. He noted that the American visitors' families include 17 children.

William Weisel, Cincinnati engineer, said, "We think we made some real progress here today for international friendship." Shiver and Elijah R. Sams Jr. of Pinnacle, N. C., agreed.

L. & N. Rail Strike Ends Tomorrow

SPEAKS FOR AID—Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, tells the Senate Foreign Relations Committee the foreign military aid program permits the U. S. ### Neutral Referee To Solve Issues

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—The 57-day-old Louisville & Nashville Railroad strike, one of the longest walkouts in rail history, will end Wednesday morning with unresolved issues to be decided by a neutral referee.

Negotiators, dogtired from almost continuous day and night bargaining over the weekend, agreed on the settlement plan this morning.

Documents signed just before noon call for rail traffic to resume Wednesday on the L&N and four allied carriers which also have been crippled by the strike.

However, L&N's headquarters in Louisville, Ky., said the line's passenger service will not resume until next Monday.

Cars Must Be Inspected

W. Gavin Whitsett, assistant to the vice president in charge of traffic, explained that all cars with the exception of those in Louisville must undergo full inspection and service before returning to operation. Cars now are standing at Louisville, Latonia, Ky., Nashville, Tenn., Montgomery and Mobile, Ala., New Orleans, Atlanta and Memphis, Tenn.

In another violence ridden strike, involving Southern telephone service, mediators reported no change. The CIO Communications Workers of America have walked out in a contract dispute with the Southern Bell Telephone Co. in nine states.

One Striker Killed

The L&N walkout has been marked by shootings of strikers and nonstrikers, and by train and bridge explosions. One striker was killed. Each side had accused the other of blame for violence.

The L&N and striking unions were given until 10 a.m. tomorrow to choose the referee or arbitrator. If they have not then agreed, the selection will be made by the National Mediation Board, the government agency which handled the prolonged negotiations.

Beginning Thursday morning, the referee will confer here with both sides, get their positions on remaining issues, then try within a week to hand down a ruling. Both sides agreed in advance to accept it.

Radford Asserts U.S. Takes 'Risk' On Asian Forces

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—Adm. Arthur Radford testified today the United States is taking a "calculated risk" on the size of its Far Eastern forces but that naval and air reinforcements can be rushed in "very quickly."

And the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff said they will be, if necessary. Radford appeared before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to speak out for the administration's new 3½ billion-dollar foreign aid program.

Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) contended this country "may be playing a dangerous game" by reducing its Far Eastern forces "to such an extent that we have to depend on our allies"—South Korea and Chinese Nationalist Formosa.

Radford said the military aid program is "part and parcel" of the U. S. Defense Department's program.

It is based on "interwoven self-interest," he said. Without the strength generated among our allies in the last five years, largely through our military aid, he continued, requirements of our own defense program would be "much larger."

Khrushchev Laughs Off 'Red Power' Query

MOSCOW, May 9 (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev, first secretary of the Communist party, was asked tonight if he was the real power behind the throne in the Soviet Union? The question was put to Khrushchev by an Associated Press correspondent at a Czech Embassy party.

Present at the same party was Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, the man who was made prime minister of the Soviet Union on nomination of Khrushchev. Khrushchev smiled at the question and said:

"Let's have a drink and ask me another time."

Bob Mitchum Sues Magazine For Its 'Hamburger' Story

SANTA MONICA, Calif., May 9 (AP) — Robert Mitchum today sued Confidential Magazine for one million dollars over a story which said the actor showed up at a Hollywood party nude, covered himself with catsup and posed as a hamburger.

"This is a masquerade party, isn't it?" Mitchum was quoted as asking a roomful of mixed guests. "Well, I'm a hamburger — well done."

Mitchum, in a suit filed in Superior Court, said the story is "completely and entirely false and untrue." His suit also stated that the article was "an attempt to defame and ridicule" the actor.

A copy of the magazine was appended to the suit. The article stated that the party was held by actor-director Charles Laughton and producer Paul Gregory to celebrate the end of the movie, "The Night of the Hunter."

Underwater Atomic Blast Planned Off Pacific Coast

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—The United States will explode an atomic device in the Pacific Ocean within the next few days to test new defenses against submarines.

A brief Defense Department announcement said the underwater blast will take place several hundred miles off the West Coast in an area "completely clear of fishing grounds and shipping lanes."

It did not pinpoint the spot, nor did it give the exact time.

There will be no hazard to inhabitants of the mainland or any islands in the Eastern Pacific, the announcement said.

The test was organized by the Defense Department and the Atomic Energy Commission with the assistance of preliminary studies made by the Scripps Institute of Oceanography. Institute experts will take part. There was no mention of observers, foreign or domestic, in the announcement, and presumably members of the American press will not be permitted to witness the explosion.

Since the Pentagon said the test is designed to strengthen defenses against submarine attack, it is probable that obsolete submarines will be used as underwater targets. Some surface craft also may be anchored in the blast area to measure the effects of the explosion, although the announcement did not touch on this.

It said a "small yield nuclear device" would be used.

The shot will be the second publicly announced underwater atomic test made by American scientists and military experts. The first one boiled the waters off Bikini in 1946. It was one of an initial series of experiments made after World War II.

Austrian Pact Signing Seen Despite Hitch

Soviets Hold Out For Wording In Old Draft On Seized Properties

VIENNA, Austria, May 9 (AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers arranged today to meet in Vienna this weekend, when they may sign a treaty giving Austria her long-deferred independence, despite a last-minute Soviet roadblock.

The late hitch came in preparatory negotiations here by the American, British, Soviet, and French envoys and Austrian Foreign Minister Leopold Figl. Conference sources said the Russians suddenly decided to hold out for the wording in the old draft treaty on extensive properties seized by the Soviets in eastern Austria after the war.

Would Reserve Concessions

Much more liberal concessions won from the Russians recently in Moscow by an Austrian delegation headed by Chancellor Julius Rabb would be reserved under this Russian proposal, for a separate bilateral Austrian-Russian treaty.

Article 35—longest in the 30,000-word independence treaty — deals with these properties, claimed by the Soviets as former Nazi assets. As originally drafted several years ago, this article gave the Russians 60 per cent of the 1947 production of Austria's great Zistersdorf oil fields for 30 years. In addition, Russia would have the rights to five refineries, oil exploration rights for eight years, and rights to extract oil from any new fields they discovered for 25 years.

Oil Fields' Return Promised

The article also gave Russia assets of the Danube Steamship Shipping Co. and 150 million dollars in cash for 300 industrial enterprises now held by the Soviets.

In the Moscow negotiations, Austria won Russia's promise the oil fields would be returned if this country would deliver to the Soviets a million tons of oil a year for 10 years. The Russians also agreed to return the steamship company and accept goods instead of cash for the other properties.

Postal Pay Hike Of 8.8 Per Cent Voted By House

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—The House, risking a presidential veto, approved an average pay raise of 8.8 per cent for postal workers today.

Democratic leaders said the Senate would take up the bill Wednesday, and that its chances of passage were good.

But President Eisenhower has indicated he would veto any increase going beyond 7.6 per cent. Postmaster General Summerfield feels the same way.

New Inequities Feared

Summerfield wrote Rep. Martin (R - Mass), the House minority leader, yesterday that he "could not, in good conscience," recommend that Eisenhower sign the legislation. He added it would create new inequities in the Post Office Department while failing to correct existing ones.

Nevertheless, the House passed the bill 328-66. It would add 179 million dollars a year to the payroll for the nation's 500,000 postal workers.

"This legislation is now so drawn as to make it utterly impossible for any postmaster general to administer it with fairness," Summerfield told Martin.

Passage Over Veto Uncertain

"The legislation would create serious pay distortions. It would raise the pay of some as much as 9 per cent, while leaving at only 7 per cent the increase of many employed at like duties . . . It would destroy the concept of equal pay for equal work."

While there didn't seem to be much doubt that Congress would send the 8.8 per cent to the White House, leaders were uncertain that it could be passed again over a veto. A two-thirds vote in each branch of Congress is required to override a presidential veto.

Subpoena Power Voted

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—The Senate today approved by a voice vote and sent to the House a bill to arm the Agriculture Department with tough new subpoena powers for investigating illegal price manipulations and other violations of the Commodity Exchange Act.

New York Coliseum Project Collapses

Avery Steps Down As Ward Chairman, Succeeded By Barr

CHICAGO, May 9 (AP)—The reins of Montgomery Ward & Co., tightly held for 24 years by Sewell L. Avery, today passed into the hands of John A. Barr.

Victorious over Louis E. Wolfson in a proxy battle, Avery, 81, resigned as chairman at a special meeting of Ward's directors. The directors promptly named Barr, 47, to take Avery's place.

Barr has been with the nation's second largest mail order house since 1932 and he believes its prospects are brilliant.

"Ward's future is almost unmatched," Barr recently said. "One reason is our very sound financial position, which gives us an important tool to realize the potentialities in the field of retail distribution."

In the managerial realignment Edmund A. Krider, 42, the president, resigned. He pledged Barr "my full support", but added he would not continue as a director and "my only plans are to take a little vacation."

Avery will remain as a director, but his action in resigning as chairman brought to an end an active, spectacular and sometimes stormy business career in Chicago dating back to 1901. It was in that year that he joined United States Gypsum Co.

When the Gypsum Co. turned in a remarkable earnings record under Avery's leadership, J. P. Morgan & Co. brought Avery over to run Ward's in 1931. Avery turned Ward's poor financial record into a good one, but he refused to expand during the post World War II period.

During World War II, on April 27, 1944, Avery, grim-faced yet placid, was carried from his office in the Ward headquarters building by two soldiers after he defied a War Labor Board directive and the Army seized control of the concern. He had refused to surrender his offices.

Man Reports Stake Driven Into Chest

EUREKA, Calif., May 9 (AP)—A man who mumbled that a wooden stake was driven into his chest by assailants was in critical condition today in a hospital at Garberville.

Surgeons reported wooden splinters were found in the man's chest and that his chest was pierced. He was identified as Clyde Cassy, 45, of near Thorn, a lumbering town.

Last night a woman telephoned the sub-office of the sheriff at Garberville that while driving on a lonely road she saw several men fighting. She said the men got in a car and fled as she approached.

Officers who went to the scene found Cassy. He mumbled his vague account of what happened during brief periods of consciousness. The officers were unable to find any bloody wooden stake.

Foreign Ministers Sport NATO Ties

PARIS, May 9 (AP)—Foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Council were all members of the club today and as such they were all wearing the old school tie.

The school tie is a solid navy blue with an interwoven pattern of tiny NATO symbols—a compass—in white.

When the session began this morning, all 14 veterans were wearing the ties. The new member, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, changed to one at noon.

The ties were the gift of Lord Ismay, NATO secretary-general.

Linda Christian Would Return To Ty Power

LONDON, May 9 (AP)—Actress Linda Christian who six days ago won a divorce and a million dollar settlement from actor Tyrone Power, said tonight she would go back to him if he asked her.

"I didn't want the divorce—he did," she told reporters who interviewed her at her hotel.

Miss Christian is en route to Spain to make a movie.

She said she sued Power for divorce "because that's the polite way of doing it in California."

One Missing, 40 Hurt In New York Project Collapse

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP)—The main exhibit floor of New York's mammoth new Coliseum project on Columbus Circle collapsed today with an explosive roar. Forty workmen were injured, apparently not seriously.

Hours afterward, one cement worker still was missing. He was Joseph Lombardi, 55.

A thousand men were on the job. Scores of them were exposed to grave peril as a 16-inch-thick layer of fresh concrete proved too much for the temporary floor base. It let go in sickening disintegration, as though beneath the fury of a bomb.

Workmen Drop 22 Feet

Supports buckled beneath the partly completed center section of the third floor and dropped it 22 feet to the first floor. Forty workmen rode it down, arms waving, feet pumping, bodies braced for life against the avalanche.

Beneath them, dozens of other workers scrambled like ants for safety in screaming panic as a webbing of steel, concrete and wood enmeshed them.

Rescue workers in bucket brigade alignment passed debris from hand to hand in a clawing fight against time in behalf of trapped workmen. Floodlights were rushed to the scene so that dusk would not impede the search.

Debris Removal To Be Slow

"It's going to be a slow process of removing the rubble, pound by pound—and there are tons of it," Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr. said on the scene.

The 30-million-dollar Coliseum project was started a year ago on the west side of Columbus Circle between 58th and 60th streets. The completed project will include a 20-story office building and a large exposition hall. It was about half completed.

Judge, Refusing Sheppard New Trial, Hits 'Theories'

CLEVELAND, May 9 (AP)—A judge late today turned down the demand of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard for a new trial.

He brushed aside as "theories" an investigator's story that he had found a stranger's blood spot in the bedroom where the pregnant and pretty Marilyn Sheppard was bludgeoned to death in the early hours of last July 4.

The handsome Bay Village osteopath had moved for a new trial on the basis of "newly discovered evidence." The defense material was presented in a 50-page affidavit from Dr. Paul Kirk, professor of criminalistics at the University of California. Dr. Kirk visited the Sheppard home in January, less than a month after a jury convicted Sheppard of second degree murder.

Judge Edward S. Blythin, who presided at the 10-week trial, overruled the motion late today.

William J. Corrigan, chief defense counsel for Dr. Sheppard, said that he would appeal today's ruling "with dispatch" by filing a "supplementary assignment of errors."

The lawyer said he hoped his supplementary motion could be heard in the appeals court May 23, the date set for hearing his earlier appeal. That appeal was from a previous decision by Judge Blythin denying a new trial motion which was based on alleged error in the trial court proceedings.

In a 16 - page memorandum, Judge Blythin declared Dr. Kirk's affidavit was "loaded with criticisms, conjectures and conclusions wholly foreign to that which is contemplated by the law to disclose a basis for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence."

Paris Reports Ike Agreement To Conference

British Say Parley On East-West Issues Virtually Assured

PARIS, May 9 (AP)—President Eisenhower has agreed to meet with the heads of state of the Soviet Union, Britain and France in the near future on ways to ease world tensions, it was reliably reported tonight.

Diplomatic informants said Eisenhower has agreed to a request from Britain and France for such a meeting. They said his reply would be communicated to the Council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization at its meeting tomorrow.

Earlier British officials said a Big Four meeting at the summit on East-West problems in Europe was virtually assured. They expressed absolute confidence that Eisenhower would meet with British Prime Minister Eden, French Premier Edgar Faure and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin at some neutral spot during the summer.

Ike Wants "Brief" Parley

A member of the U. S. delegation to the Paris foreign ministers' conference said President Eisenhower was prepared to attend "a very brief" conference of Big Four leaders—just to pave the way for a meeting of their foreign ministers which would get down to brass tacks. But this has not yet been confirmed officially.

The British said the top-level conference—which they understood U. S. Secretary of State Dulles has recommended to Eisenhower—would be held without any fixed program.

The foreign ministers then would deal in detail with such issues as German reunification, a European-wide security system and disarmament.

The Big Three decision climaxed a day of diplomatic bustle in Paris in which:

1. The 15-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council concurred that the United States, Britain and France should seek a meeting with the Soviets.

NATO Admits West Germany

2. The NATO Council formally admitted newly sovereign West Germany to NATO.

3. The Big Three foreign ministers announced they would fly to Vienna to meet Saturday with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov to complete the Austrian independence treaty. They probably will sign it on Sunday, ending 10 years of four-power occupation, though late dispatches from the Austrian capital said a hitch had developed in the last-minute negotiations there.

French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay announced the agreement to invite the Russians to a Big Four conference. Pinay spoke to a news conference following the NATO Council's closed meeting.

Ford, GM Strike Vote Is Ordered

DETROIT, May 9 (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers today reported a "lack of progress" in its guaranteed annual wage talks with the auto industry. It ordered an immediate strike vote among some 465,000 Ford and General Motors employes.

Calls to local unions to conduct strike votes went out from the UAW's national Ford and General Motors councils.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW and CIO president, explained the move by saying:

"It was the unanimous judgment of both the Ford and General Motors negotiating committees that we have arrived at the point where a lack of progress justifies the taking of strike votes."

Reuther said all proposals made to the union by both Ford and GM have been rejected. He declined to say whether any of them related to the union's guaranteed wage demand but did say they were "essentially noneconomic in character."

Reuther added that he was canceling a proposed trip to Vienna later this month for the world congress of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions. He said he felt "morally obligated" to take part in auto industry negotiations as they near the showdown stage.

Would Reserve Concessions

Much more liberal concessions won from the Russians recently in Moscow by an Austrian delegation headed by Chancellor Julius Rabb would be reserved under this Russian proposal, for a separate bilateral Austrian-Russian treaty.

Article 35—longest in the 30,000-word independence treaty — deals with these properties, claimed by the Soviets as former Nazi assets. As originally drafted several years ago, this article gave the Russians 60 per cent of the 1947 production of Austria's great Zistersdorf oil fields for 30 years. In addition, Russia would have the rights to five refineries, oil exploration rights for eight years, and rights to extract oil from any new fields they discovered for 25 years.

Oil Fields' Return Promised

The article also gave Russia assets of the Danube Steamship Shipping Co. and 150 million dollars in cash for 300 industrial enterprises now held by the Soviets.

In the Moscow negotiations, Austria won Russia's promise the oil fields would be returned if this country would deliver to the Soviets a million tons of oil a year for 10 years. The Russians also agreed to return the steamship company and accept goods instead of cash for the other properties.

Bob Mitchum Sues Magazine For Its 'Hamburger' Story

SANTA MONICA, Calif., May 9 (AP) — Robert Mitchum today sued Confidential Magazine for one million dollars over a story which said the actor showed up at a Hollywood party nude, covered himself with catsup and posed as a hamburger.

"This is a masquerade party, isn't it?" Mitchum was quoted as asking a roomful of mixed guests. "Well, I'm a hamburger — well done."

Mitchum, in a suit filed in Superior Court, said the story is "completely and entirely false and untrue." His suit also stated that the article was "an attempt to defame and ridicule" the actor.

A copy of the magazine was appended to the suit. The article stated that the party was held by actor-director Charles Laughton and producer Paul Gregory to celebrate the end of the movie, "The Night of the Hunter."

Postal Pay Hike Of 8.8 Per Cent Voted By House

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—The House, risking a presidential veto, approved an average pay raise of 8.8 per cent for postal workers today.

Democratic leaders said the Senate would take up the bill Wednesday, and that its chances of passage were good.

But President Eisenhower has indicated he would veto any increase going beyond 7.6 per cent. Postmaster General Summerfield feels the same way.

New Inequities Feared

Summerfield wrote Rep. Martin (R - Mass), the House minority leader, yesterday that he "could not, in good conscience," recommend that Eisenhower sign the legislation. He added it would create new inequities in the Post Office Department while failing to correct existing ones.

Nevertheless, the House passed the bill 328-66. It would add 179 million dollars a year to the payroll for the nation's 500,000 postal workers.

"This legislation is now so drawn as to make it utterly impossible for any postmaster general to administer it with fairness," Summerfield told Martin.

Passage Over Veto Uncertain

"The legislation would create serious pay distortions. It would raise the pay of some as much as 9 per cent, while leaving at only 7 per cent the increase of many employed at like duties . . . It would destroy the concept of equal pay for equal work."

While there didn't seem to be much doubt that Congress would send the 8.8 per cent to the White House, leaders were uncertain that it could be passed again over a veto. A two-thirds vote in each branch of Congress is required to override a presidential veto.

Subpoena Power Voted

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—The Senate today approved by a voice vote and sent to the House a bill to arm the Agriculture Department with tough new subpoena powers for investigating illegal price manipulations and other violations of the Commodity Exchange Act.

New York Coliseum Project Collapses

Avery Steps Down As Ward Chairman, Succeeded By Barr

CHICAGO, May 9 (AP)—The reins of Montgomery Ward & Co., tightly held for 24 years by Sewell L. Avery, today passed into the hands of John A. Barr.

Victorious over Louis E. Wolfson in a proxy battle, Avery, 81, resigned as chairman at a special meeting of Ward's directors. The directors promptly named Barr, 47, to take Avery's place.

Barr has been with the nation's second largest mail order house since 1932 and he believes its prospects are brilliant.

"Ward's future is almost unmatched," Barr recently said. "One reason is our very sound financial position, which gives us an important tool to realize the potentialities in the field of retail distribution."

In the managerial realignment Edmund A. Krider, 42, the president, resigned. He pledged Barr "my full support", but added he would not continue as a director and "my only plans are to take a little vacation."

Avery will remain as a director, but his action in resigning as chairman brought to an end an active, spectacular and sometimes stormy business career in Chicago dating back to 1901. It was in that year that he joined United States Gypsum Co.

When the Gypsum Co. turned in a remarkable earnings record under Avery's leadership, J. P. Morgan & Co. brought Avery over to run Ward's in 1931. Avery turned Ward's poor financial record into a good one, but he refused to expand during the post World War II period.

During World War II, on April 27, 1944, Avery, grim-faced yet placid, was carried from his office in the Ward headquarters building by two soldiers after he defied a War Labor Board directive and the Army seized control of the concern. He had refused to surrender his offices.

Man Reports Stake Driven Into Chest

EUREKA, Calif., May 9 (AP)—A man who mumbled that a wooden stake was driven into his chest by assailants was in critical condition today in a hospital at Garberville.

Surgeons reported wooden splinters were found in the man's chest and that his chest was pierced. He was identified as Clyde Cassy, 45, of near Thorn, a lumbering town.

Last night a woman telephoned the sub-office of the sheriff at Garberville that while driving on a lonely road she saw several men fighting. She said the men got in a car and fled as she approached.

Officers who went to the scene found Cassy. He mumbled his vague account of what happened during brief periods of consciousness. The officers were unable to find any bloody wooden stake.

Foreign Ministers Sport NATO Ties

PARIS, May 9 (AP)—Foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Council were all members of the club today and as such they were all wearing the old school tie.

The school tie is a solid navy blue with an interwoven pattern of tiny NATO symbols—a compass—in white.

When the session began this morning, all 14 veterans were wearing the ties. The new member, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, changed to one at noon.

The ties were the gift of Lord Ismay, NATO secretary-general.

Linda Christian Would Return To Ty Power

LONDON, May 9 (AP)—Actress Linda Christian who six days ago won a divorce and a million dollar settlement from actor Tyrone Power, said tonight she would go back to him if he asked her.

"I didn't want the divorce—he did," she told reporters who interviewed her at her hotel.

Miss Christian is en route to Spain to make a movie.

She said she sued Power for divorce "because that's the polite way of doing it in California."

One Missing, 40 Hurt In New York Project Collapse

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP)—The main exhibit floor of New York's mammoth new Coliseum project on Columbus Circle collapsed today with an explosive roar. Forty workmen were injured, apparently not seriously.

Hours afterward, one cement worker still was missing. He was Joseph Lombardi, 55.

A thousand men were on the job. Scores of them were exposed to grave peril as a 16-inch-thick layer of fresh concrete proved too much for the temporary floor base. It let go in sickening disintegration, as though beneath the fury of a bomb.

Workmen Drop 22 Feet

Supports buckled beneath the partly completed center section of the third floor and dropped it 22 feet to the first floor. Forty workmen rode it down, arms waving, feet pumping, bodies braced for life against the avalanche.

Beneath them, dozens of other workers scrambled like ants for safety in screaming panic as a webbing of steel, concrete and wood enmeshed them.

Rescue workers in bucket brigade alignment passed debris from hand to hand in a clawing fight against time in behalf of trapped workmen. Floodlights were rushed to the scene so that dusk would not impede the search.

Debris Removal To Be Slow

"It's going to be a slow process of removing the rubble, pound by pound—and there are tons of it," Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr. said on the scene.

The 30-million-dollar Coliseum project was started a year ago on the west side of Columbus Circle between 58th and 60th streets. The completed project will include a 20-story office building and a large exposition hall. It was about half completed.

Judge, Refusing Sheppard New Trial, Hits 'Theories'

CLEVELAND, May 9 (AP)—A judge late today turned down the demand of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard for a new trial.

He brushed aside as "theories" an investigator's story that he had found a stranger's blood spot in the bedroom where the pregnant and pretty Marilyn Sheppard was bludgeoned to death in the early hours of last July 4.

The handsome Bay Village osteopath had moved for a new trial on the basis of "newly discovered evidence." The defense material was presented in a 50-page affidavit from Dr. Paul Kirk, professor of criminalistics at the University of California. Dr. Kirk visited the Sheppard home in January, less than a month after a jury convicted Sheppard of second degree murder.

Judge Edward S. Blythin, who presided at the 10-week trial, overruled the motion late today.

William J. Corrigan, chief defense counsel for Dr. Sheppard, said that he would appeal today's ruling "with dispatch" by filing a "supplementary assignment of errors."

The lawyer said he hoped his supplementary motion could be heard in the appeals court May 23, the date set for hearing his earlier appeal. That appeal was from a previous decision by Judge Blythin denying a new trial motion which was based on alleged error in the trial court proceedings.

In a 16 - page memorandum, Judge Blythin declared Dr. Kirk's affidavit was "loaded with criticisms, conjectures and conclusions wholly foreign to that which is contemplated by the law to disclose a basis for a new trial on the ground of newly discovered evidence."

Paris Reports Ike Agreement To Conference

British Say Parley On East-West Issues Virtually Assured

PARIS, May 9 (AP)—President Eisenhower has agreed to meet with the heads of state of the Soviet Union, Britain and France in the near future on ways to ease world tensions, it was reliably reported tonight.

Diplomatic informants said Eisenhower has agreed to a request from Britain and France for such a meeting. They said his reply would be communicated to the Council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization at its meeting tomorrow.

Earlier British officials said a Big Four meeting at the summit on East-West problems in Europe was virtually assured. They expressed absolute confidence that Eisenhower would meet with British Prime Minister Eden, French Premier Edgar Faure and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin at some neutral spot during the summer.

Ike Wants "Brief" Parley

A member of the U. S. delegation to the Paris foreign ministers' conference said President Eisenhower was prepared to attend "a very brief" conference of Big Four leaders—just to pave the way for a meeting of their foreign ministers which would get down to brass tacks. But this has not yet been confirmed officially.

The British said the top-level conference—which they understood U. S. Secretary of State Dulles has recommended to Eisenhower—would be held without any fixed program.

The foreign ministers then would deal in detail with such issues as German reunification, a European-wide security system and disarmament.

The Big Three decision climaxed a day of diplomatic bustle in Paris in which:

1. The 15-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council concurred that the United States, Britain and France should seek a meeting with the Soviets.

NATO Admits West Germany

2. The NATO Council formally admitted newly sovereign West Germany to NATO.

3. The Big Three foreign ministers announced they would fly to Vienna to meet Saturday with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov to complete the Austrian independence treaty. They probably will sign it on Sunday, ending 10 years of four-power occupation, though late dispatches from the Austrian capital said a hitch had developed in the last-minute negotiations there.

French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay announced the agreement to invite the Russians to a Big Four conference. Pinay spoke to a news conference following the NATO Council's closed meeting.

Ford, GM Strike Vote Is Ordered

DETROIT, May 9 (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers today reported a "lack of progress" in its guaranteed annual wage talks with the auto industry. It ordered an immediate strike vote among some 465,000 Ford and General Motors employes.

Calls to local unions to conduct strike votes went out from the UAW's national Ford and General Motors councils.

Walter P. Reuther, UAW and CIO president, explained the move by saying:

"It was the unanimous judgment of both the Ford and General Motors negotiating committees that we have arrived at the point where a lack of progress justifies the taking of strike votes."

Reuther said all proposals made to the union by both Ford and GM have been rejected. He declined to say whether any of them related to the union's guaranteed wage demand but did say they were "essentially noneconomic in character."

Reuther added that he was canceling a proposed trip to Vienna later this month for the world congress of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions. He said he felt "morally obligated" to take part in auto industry negotiations as they near the showdown stage.

Soviet Policy Suffers Reverse As West Germany Joins NATO

Alliance Bolstered By 50 Million People

PARIS, May 9 (AP) — Sovereign West Germany bolstered the North Atlantic Alliance today with 50 million people and a commitment to be a reliable partner striving for peace and freedom.

The German Federal Republic joined the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as its 15th member in an historic ceremony at the Palais de Chaillot, the organization's headquarters.

This marked a major defeat for Soviet foreign policy. It climaxed a six-year effort to enroll the Germans in the community of free peoples.

West Germany plans to field armed forces of 500,000 men trained for atomic war. The chief power will rest in an army of 12 divisions, linked with the forces of six other NATO members through the Western European Union. The Germans are expected to be ready for combat by 1959.

Despite the Russians' defeat, U.S. Secretary of State Dulles warned the NATO foreign ministers that basic Soviet policies have not changed. He said the West must not relax its guard against Soviet aggression.

Former enemies and former allies alike welcomed Germany as their newest partner almost 10 years to the day after the Nazi surrender in 1945.

One by one, foreign ministers of the NATO powers hailed the decision of the Bonn Republic to side with the Atlantic community in the cold war.

West Germany officially became the 15th NATO member at 10:33 a.m. when Chancellor Konrad Adenauer took his place at the NATO Council table. At the same hour, the black, red and gold West German flag was raised at NATO headquarters, at the military Supreme Headquarters of the Allied Powers in Europe just outside Paris, and at Norfolk, Va., the headquarters of the Supreme Allied Command, Atlantic.

In Washington, the U.S. Senate confirmed President Eisenhower's nomination of James B. Conant, U.S. high commissioner in occupied Germany, as ambassador to the newly sovereign government.

Herbert Blankenhorn, director of the Political Department in the Bonn Foreign Ministry, was appointed West Germany's permanent representative of the NATO Council. Blankenhorn is a veteran German diplomat and has served as Adenauer's chief trouble shooter since 1950.

Bulganin, Molotov Fly To Warsaw Talks

MOSCOW, May 9 (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov are flying to Warsaw tomorrow to attend the Soviet bloc's security conference. The conference is Russia's reply to West Germany's entry into NATO.

This was disclosed by Molotov tonight at a gala party at the Czech Embassy celebrating the 10th anniversary of the liberation of Czechoslovakia from Nazi occupation.

The Warsaw conference, beginning Wednesday, will implement decisions of a conference in Moscow last November to increase armed forces of the Soviet Union and its seven East European allies under a joint command if West Germany were rearmed.

B&O Waves Flag Of Truce In W.Va. Bus Controversy

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 9 (AP)—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, defending two fronts in a legal war brought on by its withdrawal from the bus business, waved the flag of truce today.

The company informed the Public Service Commission it would get back into the bus business through a subsidiary, but the matter was taken under advisement pending developments in the Supreme Court.

The appellate judges, meanwhile, were voting 4-1 to issue an order requiring the railroad to appear on Sept. 6 and show cause why it should not restore reasonable bus service to the affected area.

Mrs. Amanda Gerwig of Sutton and other patrons of the defunct West Virginia Transportation Co. were complainants in both the Supreme Court action and the proceedings before the PSC.

Judge Frank C. Haymond dissented from the majority court decree in issuing the rule of mandamus asked by Mrs. Gerwig.

B. and O. attorneys appeared before the PSC today in another proceeding in which the carrier had been directed to show cause why its subsidiary, West Virginia Transportation Co., should not resume all of its suspended operations.

The B. and O. last Jan. 1 transferred all stock in the bus firm to Carl A. Boe of McKeesport, Pa. Boe subsequently ceased operations as of April 2, and the company now is in bankruptcy.

At today's hearing, George C. Doering of Baltimore, general counsel for the railway, made the proposal for B. and O. to get back into the bus business through the Maryland and West Virginia Co.

The firm would be created as a corporate filiate from the present Maryland and West Virginia Lumber Co., a wholly owned B and O. subsidiary, the commission was told.

PSC Chairman Homer Hanna Jr., taking the proposal under advisement, said the interested parties would be notified as quickly as possible.

Hiroshima Girls Reach New York

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP)—Twenty-five Japanese girls, for whom the atomic horror of wartime Hiroshima never ended, arrived today in quest of new faces, and new lives.

They were horribly disfigured 10 years ago in history's first atomic attack.

Said one of them, English-speaking Michiko Sako:

"I'm not too expectant. If I expect too much, I'll be disappointed."

However, medical science plans to try plastic surgery on the girls, hopeful of restoring their natural looks and giving them a chance at marriage and normal lives.

Their trip here was the brainchild of an American editor and a Japanese Methodist minister.

The girls, withdrawn from normal life because of their disfigurement, eventually became proteges of the Rev. Kiyoshi Tanimoto in Hiroshima.

Two years ago, Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review, ran across them and the idea of rehabilitating them was born.

They will spend a year here, receiving free surgery and medical care at Mt. Sinai Hospital, staying in private homes.

Mothballs Protect British Jet Planes

NORTH WEALD, England, May 9 (AP)—Britain's latest secret weapon to protect its jet planes leaked out today. It's mothballs.

Royal Air Force officials at the big fighter base here said the camphor capsules were used as a last, desperate measure to scare off the flocks of birds which menaced fast-flying planes landing and taking off.

The mothballs were spread over a 500-square-yard area in the middle of the airfield. The vapor fumes irritated the birds' lungs and after a few days they abandoned the airfield.

The scheme is now being tried out at other RAF bases.

Md. Republican Meet Saturday

BALTIMORE, May 9 (AP) — A congressman, a government employe and a political worker will speak next Saturday in Annapolis at the 4th biennial convention of the Maryland Federation of Young Republicans.

The major address at the banquet will be delivered by Rep. William Cramer (R-Fla). Other speakers will include Herbert L. Warburton, special assistant to the U. S. Secretary of Labor, and David Pansing, executive secretary of the National Federation of Young Republicans.

About 350 delegates and alternates are expected to attend the meeting. Many will arrive Friday for preconvention committee meetings.

Business sessions on Saturday will be presided over by J. Glenn Beall Jr., state chairman. Delegates to the National Young Republican convention and statewide officers will be elected.

Secretary of State Randall will welcome the delegates on behalf of Gov. McKeldin.

Other party notables who will attend include Sen. J. Glenn Beall, National Committeewoman Bertha S. Adkins, D. Eldred Rinehart, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, and Mrs. Vaughn E. Richardson, president of the Federation of Republican Women of Maryland.

Japanese To Protest

TOKYO, May 9 (AP) — Three thousand villagers today reported preparing a demonstration against planned rocket and mortar firing by U. S. troops on the slopes of famed Mt. Fuji.

The newspaper Asahi said the villagers fear there will be danger to life and property.

All-Out Cold War Offensive Urged By David Sarnoff

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—Radio-TV executive David Sarnoff called today for an all-out multi-billion-dollar cold war offensive led by a Cabinet rank official directing an army of trained anti-Communists.

Sarnoff, chairman of the board of Radio Corp. of America, said the program he made public today was presented April 5 to the White House.

He said it grew out of discussions in Washington March 15 with President Eisenhower and his top intelligence, information and psychological warfare aides.

He said the Communists don't do it that way and they have been reaping benefits for decades through "single-minded concentration (on) methods short of general war."

Sarnoff outlined this program:

1. Creation of a strategy board for political defense, the cold war equivalent of the Joint Chiefs of Staff on the military side.

2. More money — much more than the 79 million dollars set aside for the U.S. Information Agency this year. He suggested instead a ratio of from 5 to 7½ per cent of the military budget.

3. A cold war "counteroffensive" employing many of communism's methods, including a school where anti-Communist propagandists and undercover agents could be trained as "shock troops of democracy."

4. Formulation of "a message" as the chief weapon in this cold war fight to the finish. As the essence of that message he suggested: "America has decided, irrevocably, to win the cold war . . . in concert with all peoples."

5. Recognition that communism, and not Russia or China, is the enemy to be destroyed through countermeasures "released from the inhibitions of peacetime."

6. Use of a diplomacy which does not stand on protocol to "show up the true motives of the Kremlin."

All-Out Cold War Offensive Urged By David Sarnoff

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—Radio-TV executive David Sarnoff called today for an all-out multi-billion-dollar cold war offensive led by a Cabinet rank official directing an army of trained anti-Communists.

Sarnoff, chairman of the board of Radio Corp. of America, said the program he made public today was presented April 5 to the White House.

He said it grew out of discussions in Washington March 15 with President Eisenhower and his top intelligence, information and psychological warfare aides.

He said the Communists don't do it that way and they have been reaping benefits for decades through "single-minded concentration (on) methods short of general war."

Sarnoff outlined this program:

1. Creation of a strategy board for political defense, the cold war equivalent of the Joint Chiefs of Staff on the military side.

2. More money — much more than the 79 million dollars set aside for the U.S. Information Agency this year. He suggested instead a ratio of from 5 to 7½ per cent of the military budget.

3. A cold war "counteroffensive" employing many of communism's methods, including a school where anti-Communist propagandists and undercover agents could be trained as "shock troops of democracy."

4. Formulation of "a message" as the chief weapon in this cold war fight to the finish. As the essence of that message he suggested: "America has decided, irrevocably, to win the cold war . . . in concert with all peoples."

5. Recognition that communism, and not Russia or China, is the enemy to be destroyed through countermeasures "released from the inhibitions of peacetime."

6. Use of a diplomacy which does not stand on protocol to "show up the true motives of the Kremlin."

Baltimore Suburb, Invaded By Caterpillars, Looks For New Hordes When Cocoons Open

BALTIMORE, May 9 (AP)—While State and county authorities passed the bug, residents of suburban Overlea expressed fears today that thousands of fuzzy, blackeyed caterpillars overrunning their neighborhood will soon be reinforced.

A nearby wooded area where the crawlers are said to have come from contains scores of large cocoons ready to burst and send thousands more caterpillars on the crawl.

Mrs. Francis H. Hilditch, pointing to a cocoon extending from the roots to the upper branches of one tree, said, "Imagine if that one breaks . . . we'll be overrun."

Meanwhile, the caterpillars already out of cocoons continued their rampage, eating leaves of shrubs and apparently taking particular relish from the azalea, rhododendron and juniper bushes in the 400 block Dale Ave. That's where the invasion has been concentrated.

Baltimore County Commissioners informed complaining residents the problem was the obligation of the State Forestry Department. The county has no funds for such activity, they said.

"We've been called upon to battle many things, but never caterpillars," said County Fire Chief Anthony P. Orban.

The State wasn't eager to pick up the bug either.

State Forester Henry C. Buckingham said his department is not responsible for insect infestation.

"We're required to give advice, and we're glad to do that," he said.

Spray each plant with an arsenate of lead solution, Buckingham advised the caterpillar-infested neighborhood.

Sprays used so far have only slowed the caterpillars down, not eliminated them, residents retorted.

Buckingham said the caterpillar invasions are "a serious thing, an awful nuisance, but they occur frequently."

"They drop so thick on the trout streams in Garrett County sometimes that the trout won't take bait. They just feed off the caterpillars."

18 Months Added To Escapee's Term

BALTIMORE, May 9 (AP)—Peter Barnackie, 38-year-old Philadelphian who fled the Maryland Penitentiary late in 1946, today received an additional 18-month sentence.

It won't begin until the end of about 7½ years remaining on Barnackie's original sentence.

Barnackie was sentenced to 10 years from Anne Arundel County for burglary in 1943.

On Dec. 15, 1946, he escaped by making a 20-foot leap from the roof of one of the prison buildings to the prison wall, then dropping 30 feet to the sidewalk.

He was arrested about 10 months later for a distillery burglary in Philadelphia and since then has been serving time in a Pennsylvania prison. He was recently released because of good behavior after serving about half of his maximum term and was returned to the Maryland Penitentiary.

Circuit Judge John T. Tucker tanded out the additional term.

What is the difference between stocks and bonds?

Question submitted by Wm. W. Ward, St. Paul, Minn., Realtor.

If you own stock in a company, you own a part interest in the company. If the company is successful, and if dividends are paid, you share in the profits. When you are a bondholder, you are a creditor—not a part "owner." The company has agreed to repay you the amount borrowed at a specified time, and usually to pay you a fixed annual rate of interest during the term of the "loan." This interest is payable before stockholders get any dividends.

Basically, there are two kinds of stock: common and preferred. Common-stock dividends can vary from year to year. A preferred-stock dividend is usually a fixed amount, no matter how well the company does, but in most cases it must be paid before common stockholders get anything.

Owners of most common stocks have the right to vote at stockholders' meetings but owners of preferred stock usually have no voting privileges.

Any Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange can furnish you with the latest available information about the 1,526 common and preferred stocks and 840 corporate bonds listed on the Exchange. Many government and municipal bonds are also listed. From this wide selection of securities your Member Firm can help you tailor your investing to the amount of risk you can assume.

Cadillac

Class of 1985 !

It would take a long time to determine who won the bet—but we'd be willing to wager that the lad in the picture winds up owning a Cadillac!

We feel so confident because he is starting out like a typical Cadillac owner.

Preponderately, Cadillac owners are self-made men. They just emerge—from everywhere.

But they are usually marked, quite early in life, by industry and thrift and the will to succeed.

That's why we say that this wonderful lad—out earning money to make himself self-sufficient—is very likely to wind up owning a Cadillac. Looking at him, as he labors, we estimate the class of 1985!

We hope we are around to deliver his car when the great day arrives—for it's a great thrill to hand out the keys when an owner comes in for his first Cadillac.

It's worth a lot to see the smile on his face and the gleam in his eye as he settles himself behind the wheel—studies the instrument panel to make sure of the controls—and floats away in the direction of home and a family celebration.

* * *

Of course, for the lad in the picture, the thrill of that first Cadillac is still a great many years away.

But how about you? Is the time coming close for your dream of a Cadillac to come to a happy ending? If so, we'd be happy—indeed—to see you.

This is a wonderful year for owning a new Cadillac—whether it's your first or your fifth or your tenth. Never before has Cadillac performance been so marvelous—its beauty so arresting—its comfort and handling ease so delightful. It is more decisively than ever—the Standard of the World!

Why not come in today—and check this for yourself? We'll give you the keys and a car—for the most revealing hour you ever spent in a motor car.

City Workers Ask 30 Cent Wage Boost

Employes of the City Street and Water Departments and the city parks yesterday asked the Mayor and Council for a wage increase.

The request was contained in a letter from C. V. Shipes, president of Municipal Employes Local 817.

Last week, the Police and Firemen Welfare Association submitted a request for a wage increase, but did not specify the amount desired.

Yesterday the Muncipal Employes union announced it wanted a 30-cent an hour boost.

Shipes pointed out that city workers have not had a raise in pay since September 1952. Since that time, he said, the men have been faced with constantly rising prices.

He said action on the pay increase request was taken at a meeting of the local on May 3. It was pointed out then that some industries in the area have been granted cost of living increases since September 1952, he added.

State and county workers have received a 10 per cent wage hike since that time and this year teachers will receive an additional $300, Shipes declared.

City records show laborers in the Street and Water departments receive $1.40 per hour. The pay scale ranges from this amount to $1.68 in the Water Department. In the Street Department, chauffeurs receive $1.49; pipelayers, $1.55; foremen and equipment operators, $1.64; power shovel operators, $1.73 and mechanics, $1.80.

The council referred the increase to Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz and Water Commissioner William J. Edwards.

The Police and Fire Department raise request was referred last week to Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan.

Reports will be made at a council meeting in the near future.

Council To Aid In Plans For Sports Car Race

The Mayor and Council yesterday were invited to be unofficial starters at the Cumberland Sports Car Races Sunday at municipal Airport.

Extending the invitation was William R. Carscaden, general chairman of the event being sponsored by Cumberland Lions Club.

Carscaden informed the council approximately 400 sports cars will compete in the races, and about five persons will accompany each car.

He also asked that River Avenue be made one way, leading into Cumberland, after the races end Sunday afternoon.

Carscaden pointed out that he expects this year's event to be three times as large as last year's. Last year the club raised enough money to contribute $6,500 to its sight conservation work. This work is conducted by Lions Club funds through the assistance of the City Health Department, he explained.

Warren Mullenax, manager of the Queen City Air Service, which has the lease to operate the Municipal Airport, informed the council in his April report the airport crew is working hard to get the field in perfect condition for the races.

Street Dust Complaints Are Checked

Action to combat the dust situation along Frederick Street where the thoroughfare has been affected by construction work was undertaken yesterday by the city.

Finance Commissioner John J. Long asked City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum for a report on the situation. Long said he has received several complaints from residents.

Nuzum said yesterday afternoon the area was being watered down.

Nuzum informed the council that within the next two days the State Roads Commission will transfer the responsibility of maintaining the street being worked on from the construction company, the S. T. Brotemarkle firm, to the city.

Nuzum said this will have the city taking care of the 1,500 feet from Linden Street to Woodlawn Terrace where a large sewer was installed last summer and fall—and the street surface not replaced.

In other street business brought before the council yesterday W. B. Douglas, 1607 Holland Street, asked for repairs to Holland Street extended, where the city has just completed laying a sewer.

Street Commissioner William H. Buchholtz informed Douglas that the present surface is being allowed to settle before a permanent job can be done on it.

Douglas said mail carriers have asked the residents of that area to place their mail boxes closer to the street, as water overflowing from what he termed inadequate culverts has worn out a deep ditch.

Buchholtz reported that he has met with the mail carriers, who use a motor vehicle on that route, and informed them of the situation.

In connection with the sewer work in the area, the City Engineering Department reported that the total cost amounted to $14,926, less $1,075 received from 43 taps at $25 a tap.

The cost was broken down to $3.25 a front foot. The project covered Ashbrook Avenue from its intersection with Holland Street to the city limits; Catskill Avenue from Holland Street to the city limits, and Holland Street from Sunbury to Roxbury avenues.

Douglas said mail carriers have asked the residents of that area to place their mail boxes closer to the street, as water overflowing from what he termed inadequate culverts has worn out a deep ditch.

Buchholtz reported that he has met with the mail carriers, who use a motor vehicle on that route, and informed them of the situation.

In connection with the sewer work in the area, the City Engineering Department reported that the total cost amounted to $14,926, less $1,075 received from 43 taps at $25 a tap.

The cost was broken down to $3.25 a front foot. The project covered Ashbrook Avenue from its intersection with Holland Street to the city limits; Catskill Avenue from Holland Street to the city limits, and Holland Street from Sunbury to Roxbury avenues.

Council To Aid In Plans For Sports Car Race

The Mayor and Council yesterday were invited to be unofficial starters at the Cumberland Sports Car Races Sunday at municipal Airport.

Extending the invitation was William R. Carscaden, general chairman of the event being sponsored by Cumberland Lions Club.

Carscaden informed the council approximately 400 sports cars will compete in the races, and about five persons will accompany each car.

He also asked that River Avenue be made one way, leading into Cumberland, after the races end Sunday afternoon.

Carscaden pointed out that he expects this year's event to be three times as large as last year's. Last year the club raised enough money to contribute $6,500 to its sight conservation work. This work is conducted by Lions Club funds through the assistance of the City Health Department, he explained.

Warren Mullenax, manager of the Queen City Air Service, which has the lease to operate the Municipal Airport, informed the council in his April report the airport crew is working hard to get the field in perfect condition for the races.

MAGNIFICENT 260 HORSEPOWER PACKARD PATRICIAN

the New PACKARD
with Torsion-Level Ride

A truly distinctive fine car—the new Packard.

Distinctive in having exclusive Torsion-Level suspension . . . providing a ride so smooth, so level, so comfortable on any road it has created a higher concept of motoring pleasure! Distinctive in its quiet magnificence, with color harmonies both refreshing and sophisticated and interiors designed for your personal luxury.

Torsion-Level Ride—Packard's newest achievement in creative engineering leadership—eliminates conventional coil and leaf springs. In other cars, twisting forces due to wheel shock are transmitted to the frame with resulting pitch and bounce of passengers and wracking of car body and frame. With the new Packard these same twisting forces are transmitted along the new torsion bar system and absorbed before they can reach frame or passengers.

Distinctive, too, are Packard's new "free-breathing" V-8 engine, developing up to 275 horsepower . . . and the agile automatic response of Packard's two-in-one Twin Ultramatic Transmission.

Here, in all its distinction, is a fine new car with a fine old name.

Marland Warns Against Increase In Sales Tax

Legislators Claim They're Confused

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 9 (AP)—Gov. William C. Marland tried to steer the special Legislature's thoughts away from the consumers sales tax today as a means of raising school teacher pay in West Virginia.

The legislative comment, after the governor had addressed a joint assembly, indicated the Legislature was just as confused as it had been in the first place.

If anything, commented Sen. Ballard (D-Mercer), the speech just "made the confusion worse."

Sen. Moats (R-Ritchie) and Sen. Parker (D-Monroe) were among a number of senators who interpreted the speech as a clear implication the governor would veto any increase in the consumers' sales tax.

Marland didn't exactly say in so many words that he was opposed to the much talked about penny increase in the sales tax, but his choice of words left little doubt as to where he stood.

He called attention to an address he made during the regular session in which he advocated salary increases, Social Security and other programs in the field of education and "suggested certain sources from which the money might be derived."

"I am still of the opinion that those tax sources are equitable," Marland added.

The tax plan the administration backed to finance higher teacher pay was a state income tax, based on 3 per cent of the amount paid in federal income taxes. An administration bill to levy such a tax was defeated in the House.

"The Democratic party," said Marland in his speech to a joint assembly opening the special Legislature, "was founded on the principle that the governed should contribute to the support of their government according to their ability to pay."

Marland's statement which apparently was construed in some legislative quarters as veto warning came when the governor said that any tax which "is not based on the principles that have been the foundation of over 150 years of democratic government cannot have the sanction of the executive branch."

Marland said he considered the fact of the special Legislature as evidence in itself there was mutual concern on the score of more financing for schools.

Marland Warns Against Increase In Sales Tax

Legislators Claim They're Confused

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 9 (AP)—Gov. William C. Marland tried to steer the special Legislature's thoughts away from the consumers sales tax today as a means of raising school teacher pay in West Virginia.

The legislative comment, after the governor had addressed a joint assembly, indicated the Legislature was just as confused as it had been in the first place.

If anything, commented Sen. Ballard (D-Mercer), the speech just "made the confusion worse."

Sen. Moats (R-Ritchie) and Sen. Parker (D-Monroe) were among a number of senators who interpreted the speech as a clear implication the governor would veto any increase in the consumers' sales tax.

Marland didn't exactly say in so many words that he was opposed to the much talked about penny increase in the sales tax, but his choice of words left little doubt as to where he stood.

He called attention to an address he made during the regular session in which he advocated salary increases, Social Security and other programs in the field of education and "suggested certain sources from which the money might be derived."

"I am still of the opinion that those tax sources are equitable," Marland added.

The tax plan the administration backed to finance higher teacher pay was a state income tax, based on 3 per cent of the amount paid in federal income taxes. An administration bill to levy such a tax was defeated in the House.

"The Democratic party," said Marland in his speech to a joint assembly opening the special Legislature, "was founded on the principle that the governed should contribute to the support of their government according to their ability to pay."

Marland's statement which apparently was construed in some legislative quarters as veto warning came when the governor said that any tax which "is not based on the principles that have been the foundation of over 150 years of democratic government cannot have the sanction of the executive branch."

Marland said he considered the fact of the special Legislature as evidence in itself there was mutual concern on the score of more financing for schools.

There's Responsibility In Caring For Aged

One of the great distinguishing marks of the past century is recognition of responsibility for people who are too young, sick, old, poor or otherwise without the ability to take care of themselves.

During most of man's previous history many of the halt, the sick and the maimed simply had to die, or creep around begging alms and sleeping in what shelter they could find.

In America there has been public provision for the pauper since colonial days, for the insane almost as long and for the aged or invalid for years.

But the problem becomes ever greater. A growing problem is what to do with the large and increasing numbers of aged mental invalids who really do not need to take up room in a mental hospital any longer. Age itself has quieted their disturbances that required their hospitalization years ago. Nursing homes — or nursing at home — can adequately meet their needs.

But there are limits to what the public can do to support rest homes by taxation. Private nursing homes are surely to be encouraged.

For better or worse, the old time pattern of sons and daughters caring for their aged parents and uncles and aunts is breaking down. New houses are small and couples are having more children than they did a decade or two ago. There is, of course, a broadening cushion of social security, pensions or insurance of one kind or another.

Sons and daughters cannot escape responsibility for financial if not housing care. Tax-supported care may be growing inescapably, but it should never be regarded as the main or the sole reliance.

These Days

Thoughts On A Murder

A young boy, William Blankenship Jr., walks the streets and is shot down by another boy, Frank Santana.

These boys are unknown to each other. There is no quarrel. There is no feud. There is no mistaken identity. It is wanton murder with no provocation.

These are high school boys, the murdered boy an honor student; the murderer backward and a truant.

These are the cold facts and beyond them is New York City which has become too large, too unruly and too complacent. There is shock at this outrageous murder; there is sympathy for the heartbroken family. But no constructive reassessment of the school system, no study of the teen-age uniformed gangs that roam the streets is made.

The fundamental question must be, why have the uniformed teen-age gangs been permitted to be organized? Why have they been permitted to grow and to thrive? These boys who wear black leather jackets and blue jeans, with insignia and metal marks of distinction, where did they originate? Are they small boys and girls playing soldiers or are they being directed by adults who use them?

Gangs are not new in big cities. Back in the days of the Irish immigration, the Five Points gangs, the Hell's Kitchen gangs and others developed in the poverty of our worst slums. Later, the Italian gangs appeared, the Mafia, the Black Hand, the Paul Kelly gang, etc. The Chinese kept their gang wars to themselves, the quarrels being over narcotics and the control of laundries and chop suey houses. The Jewish gangs under such characters as Kid Twist and Gurrah and Lepke interrupted the peace of our city.

But these teen-age gangs are more vicious, more ruthless, more absorbed in sex and less criminal than unmoral. The teen-age gang is largely Puerto Rican and Negro, although no racial problem is involved. The Puerto Ricans are the newest immigrants and are not yet generally assimilated in the American mores. In time, they will be assimilated as other immigrant groups have been.

The process of assimilation has, in the past, worked best in the public school system. Immigrants from 50 nations came to New York, speaking a variety of languages, bringing their own customs and traditions, and eventually most of them were molded into good Americans. But this process takes time and dedication.

The weakness of the current situation is first the accepted notion that all children can be kept at school up to the age of 18. This is obviously incorrect because the teen-age gangs prove that at various age points certain children can absorb no more book learning; they become so restless that they seek physical activities. They may not get "working papers" until they are 14. They turn to fun of a kind that ends in felonies.

In a city like New York there are a number of vocational high schools which could offer these boys and girls an outlet for doing rather than learning, but for these "problem" children, this outlet is insufficient. They need to get jobs, to work for pay, to have money in their pockets. The assumption that all children ought to remain at school until they are 18 or even 16 has not proved out in enough instances to warrant a study of those who are mentally "blocked." A boy with side-burns and a mustache and an overpowering desire for feminine admiration may become a dangerous citizen if continued captive in a classroom. Compulsory education can go too far.

For children who come from families in which both parents work or from immigrant homes in which the parents are undergoing adjustments to a new and difficult environment, and in which the language in the home is different from the language of the community, the school must assume the role of an assimilative agency, moving the child out of an alien environment into an American environment without destroying the respect of the child for the parent.

The current behaviorist attitude toward elementary education leaves many children without the restrictive disciplines which they need during a period of adjustment. The child contrasts the disciplines of the family with the laissez-faire of the school system and decides that the school is a place where he can get away with anything. His impulse is to push his freedom as far as possible.

Cat On A Hot Tin Roof!

Washington Gubernatorial Conference Dominated By Young U. S. Governors

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—With The Nation's Governors—Seldom have so many alert young governors gathered in Washington as during the recent gubernatorial conference. Among the most impressive youngsters were Hall of Kansas, Foss of South Dakota, Republicans; Leader of Pennsylvania, Muskie of Maine, Freeman of Minnesota, Simms of New Mexico, Faubus of Arkansas, all Democrats . . . Also oldtimer "Soapy" Williams of Michigan, still young but serving his fourth term; Meyner of New Jersey, who now acts like an oldtimer; and such elder statesmen as Ed Johnson of Colorado, now in his 70s but just elected, and McFarland of Arizona, who was both senator and governor . . . Averell Harriman of New York, who looks almost as young as Leader of Pennsylvania, showed confidence and maturity, made an impression on colleagues. One year ago he was less assured. Now he stood firm on issues, talked briefly and forcefully . . . George Craig of Indiana, close friend of Eisenhower, did his best to put through the General Clay highway program, got an assist from GOP Governors Knight of California and Langlie of Washington. But Democrats Meyner (N.J.), Faubus (Ark.), Clement (Tenn.), and others talked the highway down. It didn't even come up for a vote . . . Three youngest governors, Clement of Tennessee, 34, Leader of Pennsylvania, 37, Freeman of Minnesota, 36, were comparing notes as to which was youngest. Their three wives happened to be present. Governor Clement started to take a poll to see which was the youngest wife, but abruptly stopped. The question still remains a mystery. . . . Governor Simms (N. Mex.) was at dinner with Speaker Sam Rayburn when Rayburn paid tribute to his "graduates"—The senators who had trained under him in the House of Representatives and gone on to the U. S. Senate. Rayburn didn't know it, but young Governor Simms trained as speaker of the New Mexico House of Representatives. Politicos are talking of him for the Senate if and when elder statesman Dennis Chaves retires.

McCarthyism Backfires — Delightful Gov. Faubus was attending a party given by the Arkansas Society. Reared on a chicken farm where his 67-year-old father still raises chickens, Faubus said: "When I was a kid I cut timber for the Fulbright Lumber Co., and didn't have the money to go to a university like the senior senator from Arkansas. So I had to go to Commonwealth College." . . . The statement got a roar from Arkansans for two reasons: 1. Senator Fulbright, who is a distinguished Rhodes Scholar and former university president, made his money through a lumber company which pays notoriously low wages. 2 Commonwealth College had the reputation of being a pro-Communist institution, and since Governor Faubus as a youngster went there for nine days, ex-Governor Cherry threw it up again' him during the election campaign, when Faubus was called a Communist . . . However, the charge backfired and elected Faubus—only the second time in 118 years that a candidate has defeated an Arkansas governor for re-election . . . Actually Governor Faubus and Senator Fulbright are goo friends . . . Arkansans take pride in calling themselves hillbillies, but also in the fact that they are represented in the Senate by a Rhodes scholar and former university president.

Shivers Woos Washington—Governor Shivers flew to Washington in a chartered 34-seat Braniff plane, with only his public relations man, Jimmy Banks, and the latter's two children along. In Washington, he wooed other governors, and for the most part won them. He also conferred pleasantly and profitably—from his point of view—with Democratic Chairman Paul Butler at a breakfast in the speaker's kitchen. They came out of the kitchen arm-in-arm, after which Butler issued a complimentary statement . . . Shivers, however, wasn't so cooperative when talking to Texas newsmen. Asked: "Will you be for Stevenson in '56?" Shivers replied, "No." . . . "What does he have to change besides his stand on tidelands oil before you will support him?" Shivers was asked . . . "His name," was the reply . . . Informed by the press of this rebellious statement, Chairman Butler replied, "He didn't tell that to me." . . . Texas loyalists were disappointed at the embrace given their disloyal governor by the Democratic chairman. Most of them, however, figure that Shivers is washed up. Veterans' land scandals, insurance scandals, etc., have made it next to impossible for him to run again . . . Congressman "Tiger" Teague of Texas was nervous and fidgety when he presided over a luncheon with Sam Rayburn on his right and Governor Shivers on his left. Rayburn, unlike Lyndon Johnson, has never forgiven Shivers for his doublecross in '52. Teague knew it. He was so nervous that he didn't introduce Shivers, but invited young Congressman Joe Kilgore, from the governor's home district, to make the introduction.

Housekeeper Mamie

Mamie Eisenhower is a very meticulous housekeeper, and at times she can be, like other housewives, quite irritable about it.

The White House housekeeping is a pretty well mechanized institution which carries on from administration to administration with no politics involved. The same butlers who served Franklin Roosevelt and Truman carry on under Eisenhower, and the servant staff is generally about the same. On the whole they do an excellent job.

But the other day Mrs. Eisenhower was coming downstairs in the private White House elevator, which is lined with plush and satin with a heavy carpet on the floor. As she stepped out of the elevator, a Secret Service man was standing outside, whose job it is to protect the White House, not keep it clean. Mamie pointed to the floor of the elevator and rather testily told him to clean it up.

The Secret Service man explained that the President had been out in the rose garden, got his feet slightly muddy, and tracked it into the elevator.

"I don't care what happened," snapped Mrs. Ike. "I said to clean it up."

It was cleaned up.

Current Peace Talk Can Deceive Millions Of People

By David Lawrence

PARIS — On the surface there's a wave of peace talk. It's the kind that can deceive millions of people everywhere and dash their hopes in bitter disappointment when they learn the sad truth. The top government officials in the Allied governments indulge in the peace talk because they are forced into it by Soviet strategy on the one hand and by political influences on the other.

Having no political axes to grind and having no responsibility to any political party or faction, this writer can give the facts as he finds them, unpleasant though they may be.

For one thing, United States government officials privately haven't any illusions about what is happening. They know the Soviet leopard hasn't changed his spots, but, for various reasons, this isn't the time to stand off and say so.

Fear Labor Victory

To do this would put a crimp in the election campaign of the British Conservatives, and it is an open secret that many of our officials fear that a Labor Socialist victory might mean that World War III would be brought nearer rather than made remote as the Socialists claim. This is because the Socialist Labor party leaders favor appeasement not only in Europe, just as Chamberlain did in 1938, but they favor it in the Far East, and this could bring on a war with Red China. In fact, a British election victory for the Laborites may touch off the Far Eastern war because of a mistaken belief by the Reds that the time to strike is when America and Britain are farthest apart.

There will, therefore, be a public statement saying America favors a four-power conference to discuss German unification but not to take up any Far Eastern issues. It is difficult at this stage of the game to see what any four-power conference could accomplish. For, if there had been anything to negotiate on the part of the Russians, they could have taken it up with the American ambassador in Moscow, Charles E. Bohlen, who speaks Russian fluently. No ambassador from any other country has received any proposals that could be the basis for a European settlement.

See Propaganda Advantage

But the Communists see a big propaganda advantage in a four-power conference. It enhances their prestige and keeps the Western world guessing. If there had been any real desire to relieve tension, the Soviet and Red China governments would be showing it in concrete ways. Hundreds of Americans are still held prisoner in Red China. The Anglo-Soviet and the Franco-Soviet treaties have just been formally annulled. And there is no let-up in the propaganda of denunciation.

To notify the world, moreover, that President Eisenhower's recent correspondence with Marshal Zhukov is meaningless, the Communist leaders wrote an article for the marshal to sign which has just appeared in Pravda. It denounces the Western countries as warmongers. Also a meeting of all the satellites has been called at Warsaw to establish a Communist military alliance, which has been called a "Red NATO," as a counter-measure to the West's North Atlantic Treaty Organization, into which West Germany now has been admitted.

All these moves add up to a reaffirmation of Communist imperialism and aggressive purposes, but the top officials of Britain, France and the United States, pressed by electorates which are swallowing appeasement talk, now have apparently decided to ignore the bellicose moves of the Communists and to act as if they were not happening.

Hence, there will be public statements made indicating a plan to work up a four-power conference. The signing of the Austrian treaty, which has been held up for 10 years by Soviet strategy, is being hailed as a sign of the friendly purposes of the Communists. Actually, it's a strategic move in the larger game, which aims to split Germany off from the West.

Political Parties Divided

Already inside West Germany, now a sovereign state, the Communists have succeeded in dividing the political parties by these tactics, which hold forth the bait of unification. There are well-informed persons who are willing to take bets that not a German soldier will be delivered to NATO in the next four years and that West Germans will find themselves faced with the terrible alternative of withdrawing from NATO or facing a continuation of their country's division. Will the West Germans see through the scheme to keep them neutral and detached from any military alliance so as to make easier the control from within of the undefended country by influences favorable to Soviet Russia?

It isn't all sweetness and light, therefore, in Europe despite the proposed four-power conferences and the plans to withdraw troops from Austria after a new treaty is signed. These facts constitute an unpleasant realism, but the Western world in the period prior to two world wars learned only the hard way. Maybe that will have to happen again.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

They've staged their Asiatic peace conference somewhere east of Suez and Kipling was right.

The best is still like the worst.

They've met at Bandung-on-the-way where the dunk comes up like thunder from the saucer-cross-the-bay.

Believe it or the out-of-step Chinese we have friends behind the bamboo portieres.

Their UN was much like ours. Twenty-nine languages were spoken but each one listened in his own.

Nobody can accuse the United States of colonization outside the time the side-wheeler Baltimore was off Hong Kong. The crew ate so much beef she ran aground on the bones. Today it is known as Beef Bone Reef.

The Philippines are as independent as loose cuff links. We haven't got an island that's there at high tide.

The only thing we ever recover from a war are the pins off the wall maps.

American is the only nation that didn't loot in the Boxer War. And returned its indemnities to build schools and hospitals. The worst thing we ever did to India was to sing Pale Hands Beside the Shalimar on the slightest provocation.

That makes Jawaharlal Nehru as wrong as painting your house in the rain.

Jawaharlal sponsored Chew-Chin-Chou the Peiping Tom. Both of them lost more stature than a candy cane in a day nursery.

Key To Baltimore

By Bob Considine

BALTIMORE, (INS)—My father was born here 100 years ago June 1 and my mother, a lifelong Democrat who still wants to challenge Tom Dewey to a duel, was born here 85 years ago come Sept. 17. Neither was ever given a key to the city, so they emigrated to Washington, D. C., then a primordial swamp.

But one of their sons got the key Wednesday from the hands of the mayor, at the Hotel Emerson meeting of the Advertising Club of Baltimore. He plans to stay in Baltimore until he finds a lock it will fit. The son, not the mayor.

Baltimore has a remarkable mayor at that. Tommy D'Alesandro, son of an immigrant, moved back into office Tuesday with a 24,785 edge for his third four-year term. He left school here in the sixth grade after accidentally decapitating a statue of St. Aloysius. As a non-voting honorary citizen, I now urge him to do something about the magnificent $15,000,000 airport he was instrumental in building several years ago. I urge him to let the airlines know it is here. From most parts of the country, Baltimore is harder to reach by air than Calcutta. Most times of day you could spray a tommy gun around its ramps and waiting rooms and never wound a soul.

D'Alesandro's third win is a tremendous tribute to the man's personal popularity and the confidence the average Baltimorean has in him. Two scandalous court trials involving a son (the son was acquitted both times) and distressing trouble elsewhere in his family sent the man off to the hospital for seven months leading up to the election. But with his house in order once again he has bounced back like a 30-to-1 shot winning at Laurel by ten lengths. Actually, he has now run 22 times for public office and is batting 1.000.

This is the home of Lt. Col. Ulio Amoss, the retired Air Force intelligence officer who annoys and astounds the Pentagon and State Department from time to time by the clarity of the reports he receives from shrouded "operatives" behind the Iron Curtain. He runs a kind of foreign Kiplinger letter. Several years back Amoss arranged for the free world to see a Russian built MIG-15.

The whole bill, including the defection of the Polish pilot, cost only about $7,500. Many months later the government was still offering $100,000 to any North Korean or Red Chinese pilot who would fly one out—and $50,000 for all MIGs brought out after the first one.

Dr. Howard Howe works in Baltimore at Johns Hopkins. Dr. Jonas Salk could tell you a lot about Dr. Howe. But for a flip of fate the historic polio vaccine would be known as the Howe vaccine rather than the Salk. Dr. Howe contracted tuberculosis while engaged in the important work that helped to smooth Dr. Salk's path. His friends will tell you that it was his work with the monkeys whose kidneys opened the door to the miraculous vaccine which really caused Dr. Howe's illness.

Ran into my old friend from the Kefauver committee days, former Sen. Herbert O'Conor, here and found him as doughty an enemy of crime and communism as when he wore the toga. He is a top Baltimore attorney and churchman.

His predecessor in the Senate, George L. Radcliffe, prominent here in every worthwhile effort, tells me he sat down the other day and wrote a letter to his friend Mohammed Ali, Pakistan's spokesman at the recent Afro-Asian conference. Ali visited Baltimore not long ago as a guest of Sen. Radcliffe's English Speaking Union.

Radcliffe simply thanked him, man to man, for speaking up against communism at that Red-soaked conference. He thanked him for having the gumption to state aloud that the U. S. was not the menace it was pictured to be. And the thought occurs to me: Why shouldn't we all do things like this? Letters from average Americans would be more treasured and perhaps do more good than any official scroll which a political administration in this country could bestow upon a foreigner who fended for us in the pinch.

So get busy while I ask my friend Lou Azrael, star columnist of the News-Post, to show me around the town. I've got to find that lock.

More Potent Rheumatoid Arthritis Remedy Found

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Meticorten is the lastest remedy for rheumatoid arthritis. It is said to be three to five times more potent than its near relatives, ACTH and cortisone, and to have fewer side effects. Specialists who have tried the new hormone still have their fingers crossed and ask for more time to evaluate the produet thoroughly.

ACTH and cortisone have been used successfully in many cases. They suppress symptoms but do not cure the disease. When prescribed properly, the hormones can be administered over a long period without adverse effects. During this time, the arthritic is comfortable, feels better, and notices a big improvement in appetite.

In addition to their action on the diseased joints, ACTH and cortisone also have a generalized glandular effect. This is responsible for the reactions that are unpleasant and occasionally serious.

One such involves salt and water retention. The hands, feet, and face become puffy. When waterlogging is marked, the contour of the face becomes so rounded the victim is said to be moon-faced. Other side effects include euphoria, rise in blood pressure, and sugar in the urine. But these manifestations are temporary and subside when the hormone is discontinued.

Emotional reactions to ACTH and cortisone are both good and bad. Initially, the patient is encouraged when pain and swelling abate and he realizes he is not going to be crippled for life. Furthermore, the drug enhances the feeling of well being. If the remedy is stopped because of reactions, rheumatism usually recurs. This leads to an emotional letdown and the individual becomes depressed, discouraged, and despondent.

Hydrocortisone, an allied product, is most effective when injected into the inflamed joint. When given in this way, the effects of the drug are confined to neighboring tissues and as a result, side reactions do not occur. As a rule, relief is prompt and often dramatic.

The benefits from one "shot" may last for days to weeks but hydrocortisone seldom is employed when the sufferer has involvement of more than three or four joints. This is understandable because each joint must be treated individually.

Hydrocortisone is utilized more frequently in traumatic arthritis and bursitis. The material is injected directly into the inflamed part and one injection may be all that is needed to cure the condition. Dr. Joseph L. Hollander and associates administered 10,000 injections to a large number of patients with a variety of rheumatoid conditions, including bursitis, and 85 per cent obtained relief.

BLOOD TELLS

M. J. writes: How can a doctor tell when a person has pernicious anemia?

REPLY

Diagnosis is made by studying the blood and analyzing the gastric contents. Victims of pernicious anemia have no hydrochloric acid in the stomach.

CELLS OR ARTERIES?

R. D. writes: Can a man of 40 have hardening of the brain cells?

REPLY

Yes, but it's the arteries and not the cells that become hardened.

NERVOUS RASH

Mrs. E. writes: My doctor says the rash on my arm is caused by hostility or frustration. I thought I was normally mature emotionally. What would you suggest?

REPLY

The skin often mirrors the emotions and if your eruption is on this basis, take stock of your life situation and see what changes can be made.

TOMORROW: The pesky cold sore.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

Do you think all motorcycle cops are heartless? They tell of one up New England way who bagged two speeding cars at the same time, ordering the drivers to pull up at the side of the road. The lead car had a beauty at the wheel, and the gentleman in the second car whispered, "Please go easy on her," as the cop strode by, summons book in hand. Soon the girl drove off and the cop approached the mere male, handing him a slip of paper containing the girl's telephone number. "Get going," he ordered, "and no more of that hot-rod stuff or you'll never live to use this!"

There's Responsibility In Caring For Aged

One of the great distinguishing marks of the past century is recognition of responsibility for people who are too young, sick, old, poor or otherwise without the ability to take care of themselves.

During most of man's previous history many of the halt, the sick and the maimed simply had to die, or creep around begging alms and sleeping in what shelter they could find.

In America there has been public provision for the pauper since colonial days, for the insane almost as long and for the aged or invalid for years.

But the problem becomes ever greater. A growing problem is what to do with the large and increasing numbers of aged mental invalids who really do not need to take up room in a mental hospital any longer. Age itself has quieted their disturbances that required their hospitalization years ago. Nursing homes — or nursing at home — can adequately meet their needs.

New houses are small and couples are having more children than they did a decade or two ago. Gangs are not new in big cities. Back in the days of the Irish immigration, the Five Points gangs, the Hell's Kitchen gangs and others developed in the poverty of our worst slums. Later, the Italian gangs appeared, the Mafia, the Black Hand, the Paul Kelly gang, etc. The Chinese kept their gang wars to themselves, the quarrels being over narcotics and the control of laundries and chop suey houses. The Jewish gangs under such characters as Kid Twist and Gurrah and Lepke interrupted the peace of our city.

But these teen-age gangs are more vicious, more ruthless, more absorbed in sex and less criminal than unmoral. The teen-age gang is largely Puerto Rican and Negro, although no racial problem is involved. The Puerto Ricans are the newest immigrants and are not yet generally assimilated in the American mores. In time, they will be assimilated as other immigrant groups have been.

The process of assimilation has, in the past, worked best in the public school system. Immigrants from 50 nations came to New York, speaking a variety of languages, bringing their own customs and traditions, and eventually most of them were molded into good Americans. But this process takes time and dedication.

The weakness of the current situation is first the accepted notion that all children can be kept at school up to the age of 18. This is obviously incorrect because the teen-age gangs prove that at various age points certain children can absorb no more book learning; they become so restless that they seek physical activities. They may not get "working papers" until they are 14. They turn to fun of a kind that ends in felonies.

In a city like New York there are a number of vocational high schools which could offer these boys and girls an outlet for doing rather than learning, but for these "problem" children, this outlet is insufficient. They need to get jobs, to work for pay, to have money in their pockets. The assumption that all children ought to remain at school until they are 18 or even 16 has not proved out in enough instances to warrant a study of those who are mentally "blocked." A boy with side-burns and a mustache and an overpowering desire for feminine admiration may become a dangerous citizen if continued captive in a classroom. Compulsory education can go too far.

For children who come from families in which both parents work or from immigrant homes in which the parents are undergoing adjustments to a new and difficult environment, and in which the language in the home is different from the language of the community, the school must assume the role of an assimilative agency, moving the child out of an alien environment into an American environment without destroying the respect of the child for the parent.

The current behaviorist attitude toward elementary education leaves many children without the restrictive disciplines which they need during a period of adjustment. The child contrasts the disciplines of the family with the laissez-faire of the school system and decides that the school is a place where he can get away with anything. His impulse is to push his freedom as far as possible.

Cat On A Hot Tin Roof!

Washington Gubernatorial Conference Dominated By Young U. S. Governors

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—With The Nation's Governors—Seldom have so many alert young governors gathered in Washington as during the recent gubernatorial conference. Among the most impressive youngsters were Hall of Kansas, Foss of South Dakota, Republicans; Leader of Pennsylvania, Muskie of Maine, Freeman of Minnesota, Simms of New Mexico, Faubus of Arkansas, all Democrats . . . Also oldtimer "Soapy" Williams of Michigan, still young but serving his fourth term; Meyner of New Jersey, who now acts like an oldtimer; and such elder statesmen as Ed Johnson of Colorado, now in his 70s but just elected, and McFarland of Arizona, who was both senator and governor . . . Averell Harriman of New York, who looks almost as young as Leader of Pennsylvania, showed confidence and maturity, made an impression on colleagues. One year ago he was less assured. Now he stood firm on issues, talked briefly and forcefully . . . George Craig of Indiana, close friend of Eisenhower, did his best to put through the General Clay highway program, got an assist from GOP Governors Knight of California and Langlie of Washington. But Democrats Meyner (N.J.), Faubus (Ark.), Clement (Tenn.), and others talked the highway down. It didn't even come up for a vote . . . Three youngest governors, Clement of Tennessee, 34, Leader of Pennsylvania, 37, Freeman of Minnesota, 36, were comparing notes as to which was youngest. Their three wives happened to be present. Governor Clement started to take a poll to see which was the youngest wife, but abruptly stopped. The question still remains a mystery. . . . Governor Simms (N. Mex.) was at dinner with Speaker Sam Rayburn when Rayburn paid tribute to his "graduates"—The senators who had trained under him in the House of Representatives and gone on to the U. S. Senate. Rayburn didn't know it, but young Governor Simms trained as speaker of the New Mexico House of Representatives. Politicos are talking of him for the Senate if and when elder statesman Dennis Chaves retires.

McCarthyism Backfires — Delightful Gov. Faubus was attending a party given by the Arkansas Society. Reared on a chicken farm where his 67-year-old father still raises chickens, Faubus said: "When I was a kid I cut timber for the Fulbright Lumber Co., and didn't have the money to go to a university like the senior senator from Arkansas. So I had to go to Commonwealth College." . . . The statement got a roar from Arkansans for two reasons: 1. Senator Fulbright, who is a distinguished Rhodes Scholar and former university president, made his money through a lumber company which pays notoriously low wages. 2 Commonwealth College had the reputation of being a pro-Communist institution, and since Governor Faubus as a youngster went there for nine days, ex-Governor Cherry threw it up against him during the election campaign, when Faubus was called a Communist . . . However, the charge backfired and elected Faubus—only the second time in 118 years that a candidate has defeated an Arkansas governor for re-election . . . Actually Governor Faubus and Senator Fulbright are good friends . . . Arkansans take pride in calling themselves hillbillies, but also in the fact that they are represented in the Senate by a Rhodes scholar and former university president.

Shivers Woos Washington—Governor Shivers flew to Washington in a chartered 34-seat Braniff plane, with only his public relations man, Jimmy Banks, and the latter's two children along. In Washington, he wooed other governors, and for the most part won them. He also conferred pleasantly and profitably—from his point of view—with Democratic Chairman Paul Butler at a breakfast in the speaker's kitchen. They came out of the kitchen arm-in-arm, after which Butler issued a complimentary statement . . . Shivers, however, wasn't so cooperative when talking to Texas newsmen. Asked: "Will you be for Stevenson in '56?" Shivers replied, "No." . . . "What does he have to change besides his stand on tidelands oil before you will support him?" Shivers was asked . . . "His name," was the reply . . . Informed by the press of this rebellious statement, Chairman Butler replied, "He didn't tell that to me." . . . Texas loyalists were disappointed at the embrace given their disloyal governor by the Democratic chairman. Most of them, however, figure that Shivers is washed up. Veterans' land scandals, insurance scandals, etc., have made it next to impossible for him to run again . . . Congressman "Tiger" Teague of Texas was nervous and fidgety when he presided over a luncheon with Sam Rayburn on his right and Governor Shivers on his left. Rayburn, unlike Lyndon Johnson, has never forgiven Shivers for his doublecross in '52. Teague knew it. He was so nervous that he didn't introduce Shivers, but invited young Congressman Joe Kilgore, from the governor's home district, to make the introduction.

Housekeeper Mamie

Mamie Eisenhower is a very meticulous housekeeper, and at times she can be, like other housewives, quite irritable about it.

The White House housekeeping is a pretty well mechanized institution which carries on from administration to administration with no politics involved. The same butlers who served Franklin Roosevelt and Truman carry on under Eisenhower, and the servant staff is generally about the same. On the whole they do an excellent job.

But the other day Mrs. Eisenhower was coming downstairs in the private White House elevator, which is lined with plush and satin with a heavy carpet on the floor. As she stepped out of the elevator, a Secret Service man was standing outside, whose job it is to protect the White House, not keep it clean. Mamie pointed to the floor of the elevator and rather testily told him to clean it up.

The Secret Service man explained that the President had been out in the rose garden, got his feet slightly muddy, and tracked it into the elevator.

"I don't care what happened," snapped Mrs. Ike. "I said to clean it up."

It was cleaned up.

Current Peace Talk Can Deceive Millions Of People

By David Lawrence

PARIS — On the surface there's a wave of peace talk. It's the kind that can deceive millions of people everywhere and dash their hopes in bitter disappointment when they learn the sad truth. The top government officials in the Allied governments indulge in the peace talk because they are forced into it by Soviet strategy on the one hand and by political influences on the other.

Having no political axes to grind and having no responsibility to any political party or faction, this writer can give the facts as he finds them, unpleasant though they may be.

For one thing, United States government officials privately haven't any illusions about what is happening. They know the Soviet leopard hasn't changed his spots, but, for various reasons, this isn't the time to stand off and say so.

Fear Labor Victory

To do this would put a crimp in the election campaign of the British Conservatives, and it is an open secret that many of our officials fear that a Labor Socialist victory might mean that World War III would be brought nearer rather than made remote as the Socialists claim. This is because the Socialist Labor party leaders favor appeasement not only in Europe, just as Chamberlain did in 1938, but they favor it in the Far East, and this could bring on a war with Red China. In fact, a British election victory for the Laborites may touch off the Far Eastern war because of a mistaken belief by the Reds that the time to strike is when America and Britain are farthest apart.

There will, therefore, be a public statement saying America favors a four-power conference to discuss German unification but not to take up any Far Eastern issues. It is difficult at this stage of the game to see what any four-power conference could accomplish. For, if there had been anything to negotiate on the part of the Russians, they could have taken it up with the American ambassador in Moscow, Charles E. Bohlen, who speaks Russian fluently. No ambassador from any other country has received any proposals that could be the basis for a European settlement.

See Propaganda Advantage

But the Communists see a big propaganda advantage in a four-power conference. It enhances their prestige and keeps the Western world guessing. If there had been any real desire to relieve tension, the Soviet and Red China governments would be showing it in concrete ways. Hundreds of Americans are still held prisoner in Red China. The Anglo-Soviet and the Franco-Soviet treaties have just been formally annulled. And there is no let-up in the propaganda of denunciation.

To notify the world, moreover, that President Eisenhower's recent correspondence with Marshal Zhukov is meaningless, the Communist leaders wrote an article for the marshal to sign which has just appeared in Pravda. It denounces the Western countries as warmongers. Also a meeting of all the satellites has been called at Warsaw to establish a Communist military alliance, which has been called a "Red NATO," as a counter-measure to the West's North Atlantic Treaty Organization, into which West Germany now has been admitted.

All these moves add up to a reaffirmation of Communist imperialism and aggressive purposes, but the top officials of Britain, France and the United States, pressed by electorates which are swallowing appeasement talk, now have apparently decided to ignore the bellicose moves of the Communists and to act as if they were not happening.

Hence, there will be public statements made indicating a plan to work up a four-power conference. The signing of the Austrian treaty, which has been held up for 10 years by Soviet strategy, is being hailed as a sign of the friendly purposes of the Communists. Actually, it's a strategic move in the larger game, which aims to split Germany off from the West.

Political Parties Divided

Already inside West Germany, now a sovereign state, the Communists have succeeded in dividing the political parties by these tactics, which hold forth the bait of unification. There are well-informed persons who are willing to take bets that not a German soldier will be delivered to NATO in the next four years and that West Germans will find themselves faced with the terrible alternative of withdrawing from NATO or facing a continuation of their country's division. Will the West Germans see through the scheme to keep them neutral and detached from any military alliance so as to make easier the control from within of the undefended country by influences favorable to Soviet Russia?

It isn't all sweetness and light, therefore, in Europe despite the proposed four-power conferences and the plans to withdraw troops from Austria after a new treaty is signed. These facts constitute an unpleasant realism, but the Western world in the period prior to two world wars learned only the hard way. Maybe that will have to happen again.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

They've staged their Asiatic peace conference somewhere east of Suez and Kipling was right.

The best is still like the worst.

They've met at Bandung-on-the-way where the dunk comes up like thunder from the saucer-cross-the-bay.

Believe it or the out-of-step Chinese we have friends behind the bamboo portieres.

Their UN was much like ours. Twenty-nine languages were spoken but each one listened in his own.

Nobody can accuse the United States of colonization outside the time the side-wheeler Baltimore was off Hong Kong. The crew ate so much beef she ran aground on the bones. Today it is known as Beef Bone Reef.

The Philippines are as independent as loose cuff links. We haven't got an island that's there at high tide.

The only thing we ever recover from a war are the pins off the wall maps.

American is the only nation that didn't loot in the Boxer War. And returned its indemnities to build schools and hospitals. The worst thing we ever did to India was to sing Pale Hands Beside the Shalimar on the slightest provocation.

That makes Jawaharlal Nehru as wrong as painting your house in the rain.

Jawaharlal sponsored Chew-Chin-Chou the Peiping Tom. Both of them lost more stature than a candy cane in a day nursery.

Key To Baltimore

By Bob Considine

BALTIMORE, (INS)—My father was born here 100 years ago June 1 and my mother, a lifelong Democrat who still wants to challenge Tom Dewey to a duel, was born here 85 years ago come Sept. 17. Neither was ever given a key to the city, so they emigrated to Washington, D. C., then a primordial swamp.

But one of their sons got the key Wednesday from the hands of the mayor, at the Hotel Emerson meeting of the Advertising Club of Baltimore. He plans to stay in Baltimore until he finds a lock it will fit. The son, not the mayor.

Baltimore has a remarkable mayor at that. Tommy D'Alesandro, son of an immigrant, moved back into office Tuesday with a 24,785 edge for his third four-year term. He left school here in the sixth grade after accidentally decapitating a statue of St. Aloysius. As a non-voting honorary citizen, I now urge him to do something about the magnificent $15,000,000 airport he was instrumental in building several years ago. I urge him to let the airlines know it is here. From most parts of the country, Baltimore is harder to reach by air than Calcutta. Most times of day you could spray a tommy gun around its ramps and waiting rooms and never wound a soul.

D'Alesandro's third win is a tremendous tribute to the man's personal popularity and the confidence the average Baltimorean has in him. Two scandalous court trials involving a son (the son was acquitted both times) and distressing trouble elsewhere in his family sent the man off to the hospital for seven months leading up to the election. But with his house in order once again he has bounced back like a 30-to-1 shot winning at Laurel by ten lengths. Actually, he has now run 22 times for public office and is batting 1.000.

This is the home of Lt. Col. Ulio Amoss, the retired Air Force intelligence officer who annoys and astounds the Pentagon and State Department from time to time by the clarity of the reports he receives from shrouded "operatives" behind the Iron Curtain. He runs a kind of foreign Kiplinger letter. Several years back Amoss arranged for the free world to see a Russian built MIG-15.

The whole bill, including the defection of the Polish pilot, cost only about $7,500. Many months later the government was still offering $100,000 to any North Korean or Red Chinese pilot who would fly one out—and $50,000 for all MIGs brought out after the first one.

Dr. Howard Howe works in Baltimore at Johns Hopkins. Dr. Jonas Salk could tell you a lot about Dr. Howe. But for a flip of fate the historic polio vaccine would be known as the Howe vaccine rather than the Salk. Dr. Howe contracted tuberculosis while engaged in the important work that helped to smooth Dr. Salk's path. His friends will tell you that it was his work with the monkeys whose kidneys opened the door to the miraculous vaccine which really caused Dr. Howe's illness.

Ran into my old friend from the Kefauver committee days, former Sen. Herbert O'Conor, here and found him as doughty an enemy of crime and communism as when he wore the toga. He is a top Baltimore attorney and churchman.

His predecessor in the Senate, George L. Radcliffe, prominent here in every worthwhile effort, tells me he sat down the other day and wrote a letter to his friend Mohammed Ali, Pakistan's spokesman at the recent Afro-Asian conference. Ali visited Baltimore not long ago as a guest of Sen. Radcliffe's English Speaking Union.

Radcliffe simply thanked him, man to man, for speaking up against communism at that Red-soaked conference. He thanked him for having the gumption to state aloud that the U. S. was not the menace it was pictured to be. And the thought occurs to me: Why shouldn't we all do things like this? Letters from average Americans would be more treasured and perhaps do more good than any official scroll which a political administration in this country could bestow upon a foreigner who fended for us in the pinch.

So get busy while I ask my friend Lou Azrael, star columnist of the News-Post, to show me around the town. I've got to find that lock.

More Potent Rheumatoid Arthritis Remedy Found

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Meticorten is the lastest remedy for rheumatoid arthritis. It is said to be three to five times more potent than its near relatives, ACTH and cortisone, and to have fewer side effects. Specialists who have tried the new hormone still have their fingers crossed and ask for more time to evaluate the product thoroughly.

ACTH and cortisone have been used successfully in many cases. They suppress symptoms but do not cure the disease. When prescribed properly, the hormones can be administered over a long period without adverse effects. During this time, the arthritic is comfortable, feels better, and notices a big improvement in appetite.

In addition to their action on the diseased joints, ACTH and cortisone also have a generalized glandular effect. This is responsible for the reactions that are unpleasant and occasionally serious.

One such involves salt and water retention. The hands, feet, and face become puffy. When waterlogging is marked, the contour of the face becomes so rounded the victim is said to be moon-faced. Other side effects include euphoria, rise in blood pressure, and sugar in the urine. But these manifestations are temporary and subside when the hormone is discontinued.

Emotional reactions to ACTH and cortisone are both good and bad. Initially, the patient is encouraged when pain and swelling abate and he realizes he is not going to be crippled for life. Furthermore, the drug enhances the feeling of well being. If the remedy is stopped because of reactions, rheumatism usually recurs. This leads to an emotional letdown and the individual becomes depressed, discouraged, and despondent.

Hydrocortisone, an allied product, is most effective when injected into the inflamed joint. When given in this way, the effects of the drug are confined to neighboring tissues and as a result, side reactions do not occur. As a rule, relief is prompt and often dramatic.

The benefits from one "shot" may last for days to weeks but hydrocortisone seldom is employed when the sufferer has involvement of more than three or four joints. This is understandable because each joint must be treated individually.

Hydrocortisone is utilized more frequently in traumatic arthritis and bursitis. The material is injected directly into the inflamed part and one injection may be all that is needed to cure the condition. Dr. Joseph L. Hollander and associates administered 10,000 injections to a large number of patients with a variety of rheumatoid conditions, including bursitis, and 85 per cent obtained relief.

SWOLLEN LEG

Mrs. W. writes: I had milkleg 12 years ago after my son's birth and my leg remains swollen. Will it be this way the rest of my life?

REPLY

The longer swelling exists, the more scar tissue develops and the less likely is the chance for cure. Best results follow the use of bandages and elastic stockings.

BLOOD TELLS

M. J. writes: How can a doctor tell when a person has pernicious anemia?

REPLY

Diagnosis is made by studying the blood and analyzing the gastric contents. Victims of pernicious anemia have no hydrochloric acid in the stomach.

CELLS OR ARTERIES?

R. D. writes: Can a man of 40 have hardening of the brain cells?

REPLY

Yes, but it's the arteries and not the cells that become hardened.

NERVOUS RASH

Mrs. E. writes: My doctor says the rash on my arm is caused by hostility or frustration. I thought I was normally mature emotionally. What would you suggest?

REPLY

The skin often mirrors the emotions and if your eruption is on this basis, take stock of your life situation and see what changes can be made.

TOMORROW: The pesky cold sore.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Do you think all motorcycle cops are heartless? They tell of one up New England way who bagged two speeding cars at the same time, ordering the drivers to pull up at the side of the road. The lead car had a beauty at the wheel, and the gentleman in the second car whispered, "Please go easy on her," as the cop strode by, summons book in hand. Soon the girl drove off and the cop approached the mere male, handing him a slip of paper containing the girl's telephone number. "Get going," he ordered, "and no more of that hot-rod stuff or you'll never live to use this!"

Allegany at Valley
Beall at Flintstone

Fort Hill and LaSalle each registered their sixth straight victories yesterday and remained 1½ games apart in the race for the championship of the Bi-State Baseball Conference.

Fort Hill's front-running Sentinels eked out a 4-3 decision over Hyndman High School at Fort Hill Field to atone for their lone setback of the season while LaSalle squared up its season series with Bruce by downing the Bulldogs at Westernport by the score of 9-8.

Clash on Wednesday

The leaders and runners up will clash head-on at Stitcher Field Wednesday at 4 p. m. Fort Hill defeated LaSalle in the series opener by the score of 4-3.

Wayne Murray, Fort Hill southpaw, who fanned 11 in turning back Allegany on Friday by the score of 1-0, tossed a 6-hitter and whiffed 11 more batsmen in turning back Hyndman yesterday. The win gave Murray a 3-0 mark for the season.

Kline's Triple Wins

With the score knotted at 3-all in the final inning, Galen McGregor singled after one away, "Pooch" Lewis fanned and Dorcil belted a triple to left-center to win the game. Fort Hill had tied the score in the fifth by chasing two tallies over the platter.

Don May, Hyndman ace, who came here with a 4-0 record, suffered his first loss of the season despite the fact that he tossed a four-hitter and whiffed eight. He was the only player in the game to get two hits, which included a triple, and batted in two of the Hornets' three runs. May leads the league with a batting average of .542 on 13 hits in 24 official trips.

LaSalle Wins in 7th.

LaSalle scored two runs in the top of the 7th to squeeze out a one-run margin of victory over the Bulldogs. Three hits coupled with a fielder's choice and balk marked the winning rally of the Explorers.

Frank Ritter, LaSalle southpaw, who alternated on the hillock with Joe Conroy, got credit for the win his first of the campaign against a single loss.

Harold Hudson of LaSalle and Clyde and Kenny Broadwater of Bruce paced the swatsmiths with three hits each. Bob Ahern of Bruce smacked a pair of two-baggers while Hudson, Conroy, Kenny Klosterman and Clyde Broadwater banged triples. Norman Raines, who went the route for Bruce, struck out eight.

Campers Trim Indians

Allegany teed off on two Mt. Savage pitchers for 15 hits to defeat the Indians at Campobello by the score of 13-8.

Eddie Cecil was the Campers' "big gun" with four hits in four trips to the plate, including a pair of two-baggers. Doug Sullivan larruped a double and two singles while Jerry Yankelevitz had a pair of two-base hits and batted in four runs.

Allegany knotted the score at 4-4 in the second and after Mt. Savage took a 5-4 lead in the third Lefty Don Paye suplanted George Hale on the rubber and got credit for his second win of the season. George Bishields, who started on the hillock for Mt. Savage, was the loser.

Charley Shaffer accounted for two of the losers' seven safeties. Bill Clauson homered for the Indians in the final frame.

Beall Swamps Aggies

Beall High School ran roughshod over the Flintstone Aggies at Frostburg, 20 to 5.

The Mountaineers amassed 17 hits, six of which were shared by Hansel and Clark. Llewellyn and Hansel each belted homers with two aboard and Kenny Johnson hit a round-tripper with one teammate on base.

Ronnie Rice went all the way for Coach "Ebbie" Finzel's team and registered his fourth win of the season against two losses.

Mann and Blubaugh had two hits each for the Aggies. Charley Wharton took the loss.

Bucs Option Catcher

PITTSBURGH, May 9 (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates today optioned catcher Harding Peterson to Williamsport, Pa., of the Class A Eastern League.

He is subject to recall by the Pirates on 24-hour notice. The Pirates now have 28 players, one over the National League limit of 27 that must be met by May 15.

Millers Get Rodin

The Minneapolis Millers, who have soared to the fore in the American Association, are hoping that Eric Rodin will fill the bill as the right-handed hitting outfielder they needed.

The New York Giants recalled Rodin from Oakland of the Pacific Coast League and then reoptioned him to Minneapolis.

Jackets Boost Victory Skein To Nine Games

Top Circleville, 9-0; Mongold Wins Fourth

MOOREFIELD, May 9 —Moorefield High School defeated Circleville High School's Indians here today to extend its winning streak to nine games in the Potomac Valley Conference. The score was 9-0.

It was the third shutout scored by Coach Johnny Paugh's Yellow Jackets this season.

Circleville's long safety, a two-bagger by Dwayne Smith in the 5th inning, was garnered off Harold Mongold who pitched six innings and registered his fourth triumph of the campaign. Bill Bauserman hurled the final frame.

No player obtained more than one hit.

Moorefield will close its regular schedule with a 10-0 record it able to hurdle the Panthers at Franklin on Thursday.

The Yellow Jackets will not claim a victory for forfeit over Petersburg as a result of the Vikings cancelling the last two games on their schedule due to the death of Wayne Kuykendall in an automobile accident. The game was cancelled by mutual agreement. Box:

McNeece, Johnson Battle To Draw

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 9 (AP)—Billy McNeece of Islip, N. Y., and Tony Johnson of New York, fought to a draw tonight in 10 rounds of fierce action at Eastern Parkway Arena. McNeece weighed 174, Johnson 172.

A 3-1 favorite, McNeece had to come from behind to earn the split with his muscular and less known rival.

Judge Charley Shortell voted for McNeece, six rounds to four, while Referee Al Berl gave each five rounds but cast his ballot for Johnson on points, 7-6. Judge Joe Agnello had it even, giving each five rounds and five points. The Associated Press card had it even, five rounds for each.

The draw verdict suited the majority of the 1,210 fans who paid to see the action-packed alley brawl.

Contreras Dies Of Head Injury

Collapsed Following Bout In Providence .

PROVIDENCE, R.I., May 9 (AP)—Jose Contreras, 28, Taunton, Mass. middleweight, died today in Rhode Island Hospital of a head injury suffered in a prize fight here last Monday night.

Contreras collapsed in his dressing room after his scheduled 10-rounder with Bob Bolton of Providence was stopped in the eighth round by the referee, Sharkey Buonanno.

Shortly after he was taken to R. I. Hospital, brain specialists performed a two-hour emergency operation and found that he had suffered a subdural hemorrhage on the right side of the head. A blood clot was removed, easing the pressure on the brain, and for a time it appeared Contreras might recover.

On Tuesday, he regained consciousness briefly and talked with his wife, Mary, and their two children, three year old Anita and 12 year old Billy. But later that night, he lapsed back into a coma and his condition became increasingly critical.

He had been knocked down by a right to the head in the fourth round, had rallied and had won the fifth.

Contreras was not, however, taking exceptionally heavy punishment at the time the bout was stopped and he walked from the ring under his own power.

Contreras' death was the second American ring fatality this year.

Koufax Is Placed On Disabled List

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers put Sandy Koufax, their bonus rookie lefthanded pitcher, on the disabled list and reduced their roster to the 25-man limit.

Koufax tripped in the Ebbets Field outfield and injured his left ankle about ten days ago. X-ray examination later disclosed a fissure crack in the ankle bone which will keep him out of action for about six weeks.

Schute's, Kelly, Hygienic Tossers Cop City Openers

Schute's Roofers nosed out Johnson's Grocery, 5-4, Hygienic Sanitation took the measure of the Old Germans, 9-5, and Kelly Retail Store swamped Bedford Road, 12-1, as the City Softball League season got under way yesterday.

Consecutive doubles by "Bustle" Brown and "Perk" Robinete in the 7th inning enabled Schute's to open the campaign with a victory.

Robinette paced the Roofers at the plate with a home run and double while Don Buser had three hits in three trips and Jim Eckard homered for Johnson's. The winners pulled three double plays.

Jack Stotler was returned the winner over Jack Long as Hygienic Sanitation turned back the Old G's. Jimmie Collins and John Esposito of the winners and Bob Mattingly of the Brewers had two hits each.

Jack Mayo yielded only four hits and fanned five in the Kelly Retail Store victory. The winners racked up 11 safeties, six of which were shared by Mayo, Widdows and Keyser. Charley Crabtree, Phil Reuschel and Mickey Cunningham of Kelly and True, left fielder of Bedford Road, turned in nice fielding plays. The scores:

Logart Wins Rough And Tumble Fight

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP)—Isaac Logart, a stablemate of Kid Gavilan, won his sixth straight bout tonight when he pounded out a rough-and-tumble verdict over Ludwick Lightburn of British Honduras at St. Nicholas Arena. Logart weighed 142¼ pounds, Lightburn 138½.

Although the decision was unanimous, Logart knew he had been in a fight when it was all over. For every good shot he got in, Lightburn came right back with one of his own.

With all the blows that were struck, in fact, it was a wonder there were no knockdowns. The pair went at it hammer and tongs for the full 10 rounds.

Judge Harold Barnes and Referee Mark Conn gave it to Logart 5-4-1, while Judge Nick Gamboli had it 6-4. The Associated Press had Logart ahead 5-3-2.

Pen-Mar To Meet

A special meeting of the Pen-Mar Baseball League will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. at Melody Manor, Barrelville, it was announced last night by Don Hansel, league secretary.

Sports Grill

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, May 9 (INS)—Most of the characters who infest New York's cauliflower row believe Bobo Olson, the middleweight champion, will beat Archie Moore, the light heavyweight champion, when they meet for the latter's title in the Polo Grounds, June 22.

The regulars of the fight racket are a motely lot, perhaps, but they know their fighters, and they are not often wrong in their judgment.

They look at it this way: Olson at 26 is at his physical peak. Moore is at least as old as the 38 he claims, and he has been fighting 20 years.

Olson might have real trouble making the middleweight limit again. He will be far stronger and better at, say, 170 pounds.

Moore scaled 196½ in his recent victory over Nino Valdes. He will have less than six weeks to take off 21½ pounds to make the 175-pound limit. While life may begin at 40, taking off 21½ pounds in a hurry is not easy at that age.

Joey Maxim went 45 round in three losing fights with Moore. Less than a month ago, Olson won a unanimous 10-round decision over Maxim and twice had Maxim on the deck.

Nobody expects either Olson or Moore to score a knockout. Both are rugged and have shown they can weather a hard punch. Both know all the tricks of the trade, and on that score they are figured even.

Olson is a great body puncher. He likes to crown an opponent. His punches are more bruising than you would imagine, and everybody he ever fought agrees that he hurts you in the midriff.

Moore likes to stand off and pick his spots, but he, too, can mix it inside.

The big difference between them, as the fight mob sees it, is in age and speed. Moore can't move around as he could 10 years ago. There are times when he likes to set a nice loafing pace to give himself a breathing spell.

But he will get no "breather" with Olson moving fast and ceaselessly throwing punches. The old man will have to travel at top speed all the way.

Traveling at top speed under a heavy battery of kleig lights on what may be a very hot night is no joke, as Joey Maxim and Ray Robinson can attest.

Robinson was away ahead of Maxim on points one June night three years ago when the heat got Ray. He collapsed in his corner, thus losing by a KO in the 14th round.

It figures to be, and probably will be, a tough, bruising fight but Olson should get the nod.

Greengrass Is Out With Leg Condition

PHILADELPHIA, May 9 (AP) — Jim Greengrass, outfielder recently acquired by the Philadelphia Phillies from the Cincinnati Redlegs, will be out of the Phils' lineup with an aggravated leg condition as the club starts its first western tour of the season.

Collegians Windup Series At Keyser

Potomac State College will be out to atone for an 18-2 drubbing when it winds up its baseball series with the Shepherd College Rams today at 2 o'clock at Stayman Field, Keyser.

Coach John Maiden's tossers will be engaging in their 14th game of the season, having won four and lost nine. Shepherd, coached by Cletus Lowe, won five of its first seven games.

Barker, Kerns or Riordon will be on the firing line for Shepherd while Bob Sirk (4-4) or Paul Haywood (0-2) will twirl for Potomac.

Capon Bridge High School will be angling for its fourth straight win when it tackles Paw Paw High's Pirates today at Capon Bridge. The Hampshire County team has won seven out of nine starts to date.

West Virginia School for the Deaf is slated to play Elk Garden at the latter place today in a Potomac Valley Conference tilt.

Fort Hill and LaSalle each registered their sixth straight victories yesterday and remained 1½ games apart in the race for the championship of the Bi-State Baseball Conference.

Fort Hill's front-running Sentinels eked out a 4-3 decision over Hyndman High School at Fort Hill Field to atone for their lone setback of the season while LaSalle squared up its season series with Bruce by downing the Bulldogs at Westernport by the score of 9-8.

Clash on Wednesday

The leaders and runners up will clash head-on at Stitcher Field Wednesday at 4 p. m. Fort Hill defeated LaSalle in the series opener by the score of 4-3.

Wayne Murray, Fort Hill southpaw, who fanned 11 in turning back Allegany on Friday by the score of 1-0, tossed a 6-hitter and whiffed 11 more batsmen in turning back Hyndman yesterday. The win gave Murray a 3-0 mark for the season.

Kline's Triple Wins

With the score knotted at 3-all in the final inning, Galen McGregor singled after one away, "Pooch" Lewis fanned and Dorcil belted a triple to left-center to win the game. Fort Hill had tied the score in the fifth by chasing two tallies over the platter.

Don May, Hyndman ace, who came here with a 4-0 record, suffered his first loss of the season despite the fact that he tossed a four-hitter and whiffed eight. He was the only player in the game to get two hits, which included a triple, and batted in two of the Hornets' three runs. May leads the league with a batting average of .542 on 13 hits in 24 official trips.

LaSalle Wins in 7th.

LaSalle scored two runs in the top of the 7th to squeeze out a one-run margin of victory over the Bulldogs. Three hits coupled with a fielder's choice and balk marked the winning rally of the Explorers.

Frank Ritter, LaSalle southpaw, who alternated on the hillock with Joe Conroy, got credit for the win his first of the campaign against a single loss.

Harold Hudson of LaSalle and Clyde and Kenny Broadwater of Bruce paced the swatsmiths with three hits each. Bob Ahern of Bruce smacked a pair of two-baggers while Hudson, Conroy, Kenny Klosterman and Clyde Broadwater banged triples. Norman Raines, who went the route for Bruce, struck out eight.

Campers Trim Indians

Allegany teed off on two Mt. Savage pitchers for 15 hits to defeat the Indians at Campobello by the score of 13-8.

Eddie Cecil was the Campers' "big gun" with four hits in four trips to the plate, including a pair of two-baggers. Doug Sullivan larruped a double and two singles while Jerry Yankelevitz had a pair of two-base hits and batted in four runs.

Allegany knotted the score at 4-4 in the second and after Mt. Savage took a 5-4 lead in the third Lefty Don Paye suplanted George Hale on the rubber and got credit for his second win of the season. George Bishields, who started on the hillock for Mt. Savage, was the loser.

Charley Shaffer accounted for two of the losers' seven safeties. Bill Clauson homered for the Indians in the final frame.

Beall Swamps Aggies

Beall High School ran roughshod over the Flintstone Aggies at Frostburg, 20 to 5.

The Mountaineers amassed 17 hits, six of which were shared by Hansel and Clark. Llewellyn and Hansel each belted homers with two aboard and Kenny Johnson hit a round-tripper with one teammate on base.

Ronnie Rice went all the way for Coach "Ebbie" Finzel's team and registered his fourth win of the season against two losses.

Mann and Blubaugh had two hits each for the Aggies. Charley Wharton took the loss.

He is subject to recall by the Pirates on 24-hour notice. The Pirates now have 28 players, one over the National League limit of 27 that must be met by May 15.

Millers Get Rodin

The Minneapolis Millers, who have soared to the fore in the American Association, are hoping that Eric Rodin will fill the bill as the right-handed hitting outfielder they needed.

Contreras Dies Of Head Injury

Collapsed Following Bout In Providence .

PROVIDENCE, R.I., May 9 (AP)—Jose Contreras, 28, Taunton, Mass. middleweight, died today in Rhode Island Hospital of a head injury suffered in a prize fight here last Monday night.

Contreras collapsed in his dressing room after his scheduled 10-rounder with Bob Bolton of Providence was stopped in the eighth round by the referee, Sharkey Buonanno.

Shortly after he was taken to R. I. Hospital, brain specialists performed a two-hour emergency operation and found that he had suffered a subdural hemorrhage on the right side of the head. A blood clot was removed, easing the pressure on the brain, and for a time it appeared Contreras might recover.

On Tuesday, he regained consciousness briefly and talked with his wife, Mary, and their two children, three year old Anita and 12 year old Billy. But later that night, he lapsed back into a coma and his condition became increasingly critical.

He had been knocked down by a right to the head in the fourth round, had rallied and had won the fifth.

Contreras was not, however, taking exceptionally heavy punishment at the time the bout was stopped and he walked from the ring under his own power.

Contreras' death was the second American ring fatality this year.

Koufax Is Placed On Disabled List

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers put Sandy Koufax, their bonus rookie lefthanded pitcher, on the disabled list and reduced their roster to the 25-man limit.

Koufax tripped in the Ebbets Field outfield and injured his left ankle about ten days ago. X-ray examination later disclosed a fissure crack in the ankle bone which will keep him out of action for about six weeks.

Logart Wins Rough And Tumble Fight

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP)—Isaac Logart, a stablemate of Kid Gavilan, won his sixth straight bout tonight when he pounded out a rough-and-tumble verdict over Ludwick Lightburn of British Honduras at St. Nicholas Arena. Logart weighed 142¼ pounds, Lightburn 138½.

Although the decision was unanimous, Logart knew he had been in a fight when it was all over. For every good shot he got in, Lightburn came right back with one of his own.

With all the blows that were struck, in fact, it was a wonder there were no knockdowns. The pair went at it hammer and tongs for the full 10 rounds.

Judge Harold Barnes and Referee Mark Conn gave it to Logart 5-4-1, while Judge Nick Gamboli had it 6-4. The Associated Press had Logart ahead 5-3-2.

Duke Beats Terps

DURHAM, N.C., May 9 (AP)—Duke moved into fourth place in the Atlantic Coast Conference today as righthander Harleigh Fatzinger won his fifth straight win of the season, beating Maryland, 4-2.

The win evened the Blue Devils' conference mark at 6-6 and left their overall record at 10-9.

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, May 9 (INS)—Most of the characters who infest New York's cauliflower row believe Bobo Olson, the middleweight champion, will beat Archie Moore, the light heavyweight champion, when they meet for the latter's title in the Polo Grounds, June 22.

The regulars of the fight racket are a motely lot, perhaps, but they know their fighters, and they are not often wrong in their judgment.

They look at it this way: Olson at 26 is at his physical peak. Moore is at least as old as the 38 he claims, and he has been fighting 20 years.

Olson might have real trouble making the middleweight limit again. He will be far stronger and better at, say, 170 pounds.

Moore scaled 196½ in his recent victory over Nino Valdes. He will have less than six weeks to take off 21½ pounds to make the 175-pound limit. While life may begin at 40, taking off 21½ pounds in a hurry is not easy at that age.

Joey Maxim went 45 round in three losing fights with Moore. Less than a month ago, Olson won a unanimous 10-round decision over Maxim and twice had Maxim on the deck.

Nobody expects either Olson or Moore to score a knockout. Both are rugged and have shown they can weather a hard punch. Both know all the tricks of the trade, and on that score they are figured even.

Olson is a great body puncher. He likes to crown an opponent. His punches are more bruising than you would imagine, and everybody he ever fought agrees that he hurts you in the midriff.

Moore likes to stand off and pick his spots, but he, too, can mix it inside.

The big difference between them, as the fight mob sees it, is in age and speed. Moore can't move around as he could 10 years ago. There are times when he likes to set a nice loafing pace to give himself a breathing spell.

But he will get no "breather" with Olson moving fast and ceaselessly throwing punches. The old man will have to travel at top speed all the way.

Traveling at top speed under a heavy battery of kleig lights on what may be a very hot night is no joke, as Joey Maxim and Ray Robinson can attest.

Robinson was away ahead of Maxim on points one June night three years ago when the heat got Ray. He collapsed in his corner, thus losing by a KO in the 14th round.

It figures to be, and probably will be, a tough, bruising fight but Olson should get the nod.

Greengrass Is Out With Leg Condition

PHILADELPHIA, May 9 (AP) — Jim Greengrass, outfielder recently acquired by the Philadelphia Phillies from the Cincinnati Redlegs, will be out of the Phils' lineup with an aggravated leg condition as the club starts its first western tour of the season.

General Manager Roy Hamey announced today that Greengrass will be hospitalized either in Baltimore or at Boston as the Phillies take off for the first game of the western swing—a game at St. Louis tomorrow.

Collegians Windup Series At Keyser

Potomac State College will be out to atone for an 18-2 drubbing when it winds up its baseball series with the Shepherd College Rams today at 2 o'clock at Stayman Field, Keyser.

The Shepherdstown nine defeated the Catamounts on April 30 with Ray Riordon as the winning pitcher.

Coach John Maiden's tossers will be engaging in their 14th game of the season, having won four and lost nine. Shepherd, coached by Cletus Lowe, won five of its first seven games.

Barker, Kerns or Riordon will be on the firing line for Shepherd while Bob Sirk (4-4) or Paul Haywood (0-2) will twirl for Potomac.

Capon Bridge High School will be angling for its fourth straight win when it tackles Paw Paw High's Pirates today at Capon Bridge. The Hampshire County team has won seven out of nine starts to date.

West Virginia School for the Deaf is slated to play Elk Garden at the latter place today in a Potomac Valley Conference tilt.

Red Sox Will Remove Ted Williams From Active List

Majors Reduce To 25 Players On Wednesday

Ted Will Be Placed On Restricted List; Slugger Is Confused

BOSTON, May 9 (AP)—Boston Red Sox General Manager Joe Cronin said today slugger Ted Williams' name will be taken off the active list and placed on the restricted list on Wednesday.

TED WILLIAMS

Major league teams must cut down rosters to 25 active players plus servicemen by midnight, May 11.

The big slugging outfielder, whose playing status remains a question mark even after his divorce in Miami today, can be taken off the restricted list at his own request under rules 15 and 16b, the Sox said.

Cronin talked with Williams by telephone today after Mrs. Williams was granted a divorce. The conversation, as recounted here by the Sox, cast little light on Williams' future plans.

Cronin said Williams told him:

"I still haven't changed. It was a hectic day. I'm confused. I don't know any more now than I knew before."

By placing Williams on the restricted list, the Red Sox reserve all rights to the big slugger without having to hold open a place on the roster for him after the May 12 cut-down date.

The action will enable the club to return Williams to the active list by merely making a telephone call to American League headquarters if he decides to resume his playing career.

Mrs. Ted Williams Granted Divorce

MIAMI, Fla., May 9 (AP)—Ted Williams' wife, Doris, was granted a divorce in circuit court today but the former Boston Red Sox slugger said he had not made up his mind about returning to baseball.

There have been reports that the $100,000-a-year star would rejoin the Red Sox if his wife agreed to a lump sum settlement.

Judge George E. Holt approved Mrs. Williams' divorce petition but put off his decision on the alimony.

Williams' income tax returns for the last two years were placed in evidence, along with a statement of his net worth, and the judge said he would study them before arranging a settlement.

"I'm not sure if I'll play baseball," Williams told news men after the 30-minute hearing in the judge's chambers.

Mrs. Williams was a cashier in a Pensacola, Fla., hotel when Ted, then an aircadet, met and married her. Their marriage lasted 10 years.

League In Distress

The six-team Western League reportedly is in dire straits and may not be able to finish the 1955 season.

Minneapolis Tribune reports "baseball people in this loop are boiling mad over the deal they got when Denver and Omaha were turned over to the American Association for a trifling sum."

Now the league is stretched from Iowa to Colorado with terrific transportation costs and meager crowds everywhere, everyday.

Mueller Nears Record Set By Fred Lindstrom

Don Has Hit Safely In 21 Straight Tilts

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP)—Streaking Don Mueller is only three games shy of the New York Giants' record for consecutive game hitting today and at the rate he's going he could well threaten the National League mark.

Mueller, who leads the majors in hits with 40, has hit safely in his last 21 games, missing only the Giants' opener on April 12. Freddie Lindstrom set the Giants' streak mark of 24 in 1930 and Tommy Holmes is the league's record holder with 37 in 1945.

Virdon Leads With .424

Mueller's pace has been phenomenal. He has collected 14 safeties in his last 27 times at bat and raised his average to .421 while challenging St. Louis' Bill Virdon, who leads with .424. Virdon shows only 59 official at bats compared to Mueller's 95.

Rip Repulski of the Cardinals gained three points to .367 in games last week to remain third place. Brooklyn's Roy Campanella is fourth with .353 followed by Gene Freese of Pittsburgh with .345.

In the American League, Al Kaline and Harvey Kuenn of Detroit moved up to challenge Bill Skowron and Vic Power, both sidelined with leg injuries.

Skowron is the pace-setter with a .451 batting mark. The Yankee first sacker had 23 hits in 51 trips before he sustained a pulled leg muscle two weeks ago. Power, Kansas City's first baseman, is second at .415.

Meanwhile, Kaline collected 12 hits in 31 at bats last week (a .387 pace) and holds down third place with a .407 average. Kuenn, with 14 for 33 last week, climbed 17 points to .390, good for fourth place.

Walter (Hoot) Evers of Baltimore is fifth with .389 followed by Sherman Lollar of Chicago with .348.

Home Run Leaders Tied

LaVale To Crown Marbles Champion

LaVale School will crown its marbles champion today and the winner will vie in the city finals at Gephart Playground on June 7.

Edgar Phillips, LaSalle; Robert Imes, St. Patrick's; Roy Phillips, Ridgeley; Don Cox, Wiley Ford, and Tommy Morgan, Centre Street.

Tell Age By Teeth

Gulfstream Drops $100,000 Guarantee For Derby Winner

MIAMI, Fla., May 9 (AP) — Gulfstream Park will no longer guarantee $100,000 to the winner of its annual Florida Derby, but President James Donn says the winning owners still can expect to come close to that figure.

The nominating fee will be lowered from $250 to about $100, the track reported, but the entry fee on the morning of the race will be increased from $1,500 to $2,000.

William Woodward Jr. collected $100,000 this year for Nashua's victory, while owners of second, third and fourth place horses won $25,000, $12,000 and $7,500, respectively. Hereafter, $20,000 will be paid for second, $10,000 for third and $5,000 for fourth.

Warns Against Summer "Crew Cuts" For Dogs

A dog is generally miserable with his whole coat clipped close to the skin. The short hairs prick him everytime he moves, flies and other insects can get at him easier and if he is a Collie or German Shepherd or any other breed of dog accustomed to a luxuriant coat, his pride is hurt.

Nature knows what it is doing. A dog naturally sheds part of his coat in spring. The breeds mentioned above shed their heavy winter undercoats. Owners can assist by brushing or massaging out dead hairs. What is left acts as insulation against the heat and protects against sudden cold. Even in hot weather a long-haired dog with a "crew cut" can catch cold.

County, Rocking Chair Games Set For Today

The Cumberland Loyal Order of Moose (2-0) will play the Fraternal Order of Eagles (0-1) at Stitcher Field and the Outdoor Club (0-2) will oppose the Knights of Columbus (0-1) at Allegany Field in Rocking Chair Softball League games on tap for today.

In County League games billed today, the Old Germany (1-0) will play the Knights of Columbus (0-2) at Mt. Savage and Stringtown (1-0) will visit Kennell's Mill (1-1).

Hartack Has Four Winners

I Appeal Captures New Jersey Feature

CAMDEN, N. J., May 9 (AP)—Jockey Willie Hartack grabbed his fourth win of the day, riding Brookfield Farm's I Appeal to victory in the featured Perth Amboy Purse at Garden State Park before 18,869 today.

Second in the six furlong scamper, four lengths behind the winner was M. S. Goldnamer's Royal Fan, who held a similar margin over Setubal. A head back came E. M. O'Brien's Brisuet.

I Appeal, who ha' been second his last four outings, two this year and a pair in 1954, left no doubt today. Jumping the gun at the break, the 4-year-old shot to the front and was never seriously bothered. The field was well strung out, and not until the final yards did the running order change.

The return on I Appeal was 3.40 to win, and without being pressed at any stage he reeled off the six panels in 1:10 3/5.

Finishing behind the first four were Easter Prince, Miss Joanne and Pinelet.

Daily double players found the answer in the "10-1 combination. The two-for-one payoff netted $145.80 for each $2 investment. The combination was made up of J. J. Colando's Ancient Greek, $20.20, and Sylvester Rich's Sugarfoot, $11.20. Joe Regalbuto was up on Ancient Greek.

James E. Kelley, Jr., instructor, reports that 35 seniors were in the class and 27 passed. Six of those passing were girls and three of the eight who failed to pass were girls.

Twenty-two juniors (under 16 years of age) took the course and 16 qualified for certificates. Three of the 16 were girls and one of the six failed was a girl.

New York Receives Cut Of $4,855,981 From Jamaica Races

ALBANY, N.Y., May 9 (AP)—New York State took in $4,855,981 from pari-mutuel betting at Jamaica race track's 20-day spring meeting.

George M. Bragalini, president of the State Tax Commission, also reported today that New York City received $466,899 at its share of the pari-mutuel pool.

The total betting handle was $46,689,934, compared with $51,291,377 for last year's 21-day meeting. Attendance this year totaled 585,232, as against 655,595 for the 1954 spring meeting.

Theater TV Version Of Title Fight May Outdraw Real Thing

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP) — New York's theater TV version of the Rocky Marciano-Don Cockell heavyweight championship fight could outdraw the real thing in San Francisco next week.

Sixteen movie theaters and one drive-in are scheduled to show the fight in the metropolitan area. Their total capacity is about 50,000—a lot more people than the promoters expect in Kezar Stadium. In all, 83 theaters have been signed up for theater TV with the West Coast blacked out.

Maxwell Sold By Baltimore

Tigers Buy Player; Alexander Optioned

BALTIMORE, May 9 (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles today sold outfielder Charlie Maxwell to Detroit for the waiver price.

Maxwell's departure, following by a few hours that of pitcher Bob Alexander, who was optioned to Portland, Ore., on 24-hour recall, left the Birds with 28 players. That includes Duane Pillette, whose 30-day disability listing expires simultaneously with the league cut-down deadline—midnight Wednesday.

Maxwell 28, came to the Orioles last winter from the Boston Red Sox in exchange for Sam Mele. He had a robust record as a minor league power hitter but the best he did in three seasons with Boston was .250 last year on 26 hits in 74 games and 104 trips to the plate.

Manager Paul Richards, who said he was not convinced Maxwell could hit major league pitching, had sent him to bat only four times since the regular season opened. Maxwell failed to connect.

Alexander, tall righthander and first player secured by Richards after he took over the Baltimore club, has a 1-0 record. But he got credit for the win after pitching to only one man in the 10th inning of a May 1 game with the Chicago White Sox. The rest of his record isn't so good.

Meanwhile, the Orioles signed Braxton Nail Jr., Mississippi State all-Southeastern Conference catcher and said he would be sent to York, Pa., of the Piedmont League after his graduation in a few weeks.

Nail played four seasons at State, hitting .421 as a freshman and .370, .384 and .388 the succeeding seasons.

Bubba Church Sent To Angels By Cubs

CHICAGO, May 9 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs announced today the outright release of Bubba Church, 30-year-old pitcher, to their Los Angeles farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

At the same time the cubs optioned pitcher Bob Thorpe to Des Moines of the Western League.

Church had pitched only 3 1-3 innings thus far this season and Thorpe had pitched 2 innings. Each had a 0-0 record.

Red Sox Will Remove Ted Williams From Active List

Majors Reduce To 25 Players On Wednesday

Ted Will Be Placed On Restricted List; Slugger Is Confused

BOSTON, May 9 (AP)—Boston Red Sox General Manager Joe Cronin said today slugger Ted Williams' name will be taken off the active list and placed on the restricted list on Wednesday.

TED WILLIAMS

Major league teams must cut down rosters to 25 active players plus servicemen by midnight, May 11.

The big slugging outfielder, whose playing status remains a question mark even after his divorce in Miami today, can be taken off the restricted list at his own request under rules 15 and 16b, the Sox said.

Cronin talked with Williams by telephone today after Mrs. Williams was granted a divorce. The conversation, as recounted here by the Sox, cast little light on Williams' future plans.

Cronin said Williams told him:

"I still haven't changed. It was a hectic day. I'm confused. I don't know any more now than I knew before."

By placing Williams on the restricted list, the Red Sox reserve all rights to the big slugger without having to hold open a place on the roster for him after the May 12 cut-down date.

The action will enable the club to return Williams to the active list by merely making a telephone call to American League headquarters if he decides to resume his playing career.

Mrs. Ted Williams Granted Divorce

MIAMI, Fla., May 9 (AP)—Ted Williams' wife, Doris, was granted a divorce in circuit court today but the former Boston Red Sox slugger said he had not made up his mind about returning to baseball.

There have been reports that the $100,000-a-year star would rejoin the Red Sox if his wife agreed to a lump sum settlement.

Judge George E. Holt approved Mrs. Williams' divorce petition but put off his decision on the alimony.

Williams' income tax returns for the last two years were placed in evidence, along with a statement of his net worth, and the judge said he would study them before arranging a settlement.

"I'm not sure if I'll play baseball," Williams told news men after the 30-minute hearing in the judge's chambers.

Mrs. Williams was a cashier in a Pensacola, Fla., hotel when Ted, then an aircadet, met and married her. Their marriage lasted 10 years.

League In Distress

The six-team Western League reportedly is in dire straits and may not be able to finish the 1955 season.

Minneapolis Tribune reports "baseball people in this loop are boiling mad over the deal they got when Denver and Omaha were turned over to the American Association for a trifling sum."

Mueller Nears Record Set By Fred Lindstrom

Don Has Hit Safely In 21 Straight Tilts

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP)—Streaking Don Mueller is only three games shy of the New York Giants' record for consecutive game hitting today and at the rate he's going he could well threaten the National League mark.

Mueller, who leads the majors in hits with 40, has hit safely in his last 21 games, missing only the Giants' opener on April 12. Freddie Lindstrom set the Giants' streak mark of 24 in 1930 and Tommy Holmes is the league's record holder with 37 in 1945.

Virdon Leads With .424

Mueller's pace has been phenomenal. He has collected 14 safeties in his last 27 times at bat and raised his average to .421 while challenging St. Louis' Bill Virdon, who leads with .424. Virdon shows only 59 official at bats compared to Mueller's 95.

Rip Repulski of the Cardinals gained three points to .367 in games last week to remain third place. Brooklyn's Roy Campanella is fourth with .353 followed by Gene Freese of Pittsburgh with .345.

In the American League, Al Kaline and Harvey Kuenn of Detroit moved up to challenge Bill Skowron and Vic Power, both sidelined with leg injuries.

Skowron is the pace-setter with a .451 batting mark. The Yankee first sacker had 23 hits in 51 trips before he sustained a pulled leg muscle two weeks ago. Power, Kansas City's first baseman, is second at .415.

Meanwhile, Kaline collected 12 hits in 31 at bats last week (a .387 pace) and holds down third place with a .407 average. Kuenn, with 14 for 33 last week, climbed 17 points to .390, good for fourth place.

Walter (Hoot) Evers of Baltimore is fifth with .389 followed by Sherman Lollar of Chicago with .348.

Home Run Leaders Tied

Carl Furillo and Duke Snider of Brooklyn's slugging Dodgers are deadlocked for the National League's home run lead with eight apiece.

LaVale To Crown Marbles Champion

LaVale School will crown its marbles champion today and the winner will vie in the city finals at Gephart Playground on June 7.

Edgar Phillips, LaSalle; Robert Imes, St. Patrick's; Roy Phillips, Ridgeley; Don Cox, Wiley Ford, and Tommy Morgan, Centre Street.

Tell Age By Teeth

Gulfstream Drops $100,000 Guarantee For Derby Winner

MIAMI, Fla., May 9 (AP) — Gulfstream Park will no longer guarantee $100,000 to the winner of its annual Florida Derby, but President James Donn says the winning owners still can expect to come close to that figure.

The nominating fee will be lowered from $250 to about $100, the track reported, but the entry fee on the morning of the race will be increased from $1,500 to $2,000.

"The race will carry a $100,000 added purse," said Horace Wade, Gulfstream publicity director, "but that figure no longer is guaranteed to the winner."

William Woodward Jr. collected $100,000 this year for Nashua's victory, while owners of second, third and fourth place horses won $25,000, $12,000 and $7,500, respectively. Hereafter, $20,000 will be paid for second, $10,000 for third and $5,000 for fourth.

Warns Against Summer "Crew Cuts" For Dogs

A dog is generally miserable with his whole coat clipped close to the skin. The short hairs prick him everytime he moves, flies and other insects can get at him easier and if he is a Collie or German Shepherd or any other breed of dog accustomed to a luxuriant coat, his pride is hurt.

Nature knows what it is doing. A dog naturally sheds part of his coat in spring. The breeds mentioned above shed their heavy winter undercoats. Owners can assist by brushing or massaging out dead hairs. What is left acts as insulation against the heat and protects against sudden cold. Even in hot weather a long-haired dog with a "crew cut" can catch cold.

County, Rocking Chair Games Set For Today

The Cumberland Loyal Order of Moose (2-0) will play the Fraternal Order of Eagles (0-1) at Stitcher Field and the Outdoor Club (0-2) will oppose the Knights of Columbus (0-1) at Allegany Field in Rocking Chair Softball League games on tap for today.

In County League games billed today, the Old Germany (1-0) will play the Knights of Columbus (0-2) at Mt. Savage and Stringtown (1-0) will visit Kennell's Mill (1-1).

Hartack Has Four Winners

I Appeal Captures New Jersey Feature

CAMDEN, N. J., May 9 (AP)—Jockey Willie Hartack grabbed his fourth win of the day, riding Brookfield Farm's I Appeal to victory in the featured Perth Amboy Purse at Garden State Park before 18,869 today.

Second in the six furlong scamper, four lengths behind the winner was M. S. Goldnamer's Royal Fan, who held a similar margin over Setubal. A head back came E. M. O'Brien's Brisuet.

I Appeal, who ha' been second his last four outings, two this year and a pair in 1954, left no doubt today. Jumping the gun at the break, the 4-year-old shot to the front and was never seriously bothered. The field was well strung out, and not until the final yards did the running order change.

The return on I Appeal was 3.40 to win, and without being pressed at any stage he reeled off the six panels in 1:10 3/5.

Finishing behind the first four were Easter Prince, Miss Joanne and Pinelet.

Brookfield and Hartack had scored earlier on the card with Isajoy in the fourth race. Hartack's other scores came aboard Another Moon, and Our Dance.

Daily double players found the answer in the "10-1 combination. The two-for-one payoff netted $145.80 for each $2. investment. The combination was made up of J. J. Colando's Ancient Greek, $20.20, and Sylvester Rich's Sugarfoot, $11.20. Joe Regalbuto was up on Ancient Greek.

New York Receives Cut Of $4,855,981 From Jamaica Races

ALBANY, N.Y., May 9 (AP)—New York State took in $4,855,981 from pari-mutuel betting at Jamaica race track's 20-day spring meeting.

George M. Bragalini, president of the State Tax Commission, also reported today that New York City received $466,899 at its share of the pari-mutuel pool.

The total betting handle was $46,689,934, compared with $51,291,377 for last year's 21-day meeting. Attendance this year totaled 585,232, as against 655,595 for the 1954 spring meeting.

Theater TV Version Of Title Fight May Outdraw Real Thing

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP) — New York's theater TV version of the Rocky Marciano-Don Cockell heavyweight championship fight could outdraw the real thing in San Francisco next week.

Sixteen movie theaters and one drive-in are scheduled to show the fight in the metropolitan area. Their total capacity is about 50,000—a lot more people than the promoters expect in Kezar Stadium. In all, 83 theaters have been signed up for theater TV with the West Coast blacked out.

Maxwell Sold By Baltimore

Tigers Buy Player; Alexander Optioned

BALTIMORE, May 9 (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles today sold outfielder Charlie Maxwell to Detroit for the waiver price.

Maxwell's departure, following by a few hours that of pitcher Bob Alexander, who was optioned to Portland, Ore., on 24-hour recall, left the Birds with 28 players. That includes Duane Pillette, whose 30-day disability listing expires simultaneously with the league cut-down deadline—midnight Wednesday.

Maxwell 28, came to the Orioles last winter from the Boston Red Sox in exchange for Sam Mele. He had a robust record as a minor league power hitter but the best he did in three seasons with Boston was .250 last year on 26 hits in 74 games and 104 trips to the plate.

Charlie hit .194 with seven hits in 36 spring training at bats.

Manager Paul Richards, who said he was not convinced Maxwell could hit major league pitching, had sent him to bat only four times since the regular season opened. Maxwell failed to connect.

Alexander, tall righthander and first player secured by Richards after he took over the Baltimore club, has a 1-0 record. But he got credit for the win after pitching to only one man in the 10th inning of a May 1 game with the Chicago White Sox. The rest of his record isn't so good.

Meanwhile, the Orioles signed Braxton Nail Jr., Mississippi State all-Southeastern Conference catcher and said he would be sent to York, Pa., of the Piedmont League after his graduation in a few weeks.

Nail played four seasons at State, hitting .421 as a freshman and .370, .384 and .388 the succeeding seasons.

Bubba Church Sent To Angels By Cubs

CHICAGO, May 9 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs announced today the outright release of Bubba Church, 30-year-old pitcher, to their Los Angeles farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

At the same time the cubs optioned pitcher Bob Thorpe to Des Moines of the Western League.

Church had pitched only 3 1-3 innings thus far this season and Thorpe had pitched 2 innings. Each had a 0-0 record.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, May 9 (INS) — Had a real laugh when Harry Joe Brown and Randy Scott told me that they are bringing back a sequence from the musical "The Black Crook" in their next western, "Marshall of Medicine Bend."

Angela Lansbury will play the Frankie Bailey role — Frankie was "just shocking" appearing in "Black Crook" wearing tights from chin to toe.

The reason I had to laugh is that many years ago when I was very young, I was taken to the door of the theater where "Black Crook" was playing.

Today I suppose "Black Crook" would be considered very mild.

The attractive new girl rehearsing on the Warner Brothers lot with James Dean is Carroll Baker, who was brought here from New York to play Luz, Jr. in "Giant."

Carroll has been called another Grace Kelly. She was in Robert Anderson's recent play and she received her dramatic training at the Lee Strasberg Studios. That's where Marlon Brando, James Dean and Eva Marie Saint all went to school.

Carroll's rehearsals were so effective that Warners have taken over her contract from George Stevens and she'll be given a build-up. George, by the way, has gone to Texas to find more locations.

After the success of "Strategic Air Command" there were bound to be more movies blazing the skyways, — and sure enough, Warners are coming up with "Toward the Unknown" by Bernie Lay Jr.

In fact, Bernie is one of the authors of "Strategic Air Command" and his new story deals with the top secret "X" model aircrafts and experimental planes of the future and the pilots who test these dangerous ships. Much of the material was gathered at Edwards Air Base, the most important secret testing center.

Jack Warner has turned the thriller over to Mervyn Le Roy to produce and direct.

One of the MCA agents really thought he had something when Clark Gable handed him a book bound in dark green leather titled "My Life, East and West" by Clark Gable.

"This is my life story," said Clark; "and it's just the way I want it written."

There was a clasp on the book with a small padlock, and when the agent unlocked it and looked at the bound pages he saw that they were blank.

"That's the way my life story will be done," said Clark. That's what he thinks! After Clark's gone, he won't have much to say about it.

Dolores Hope and all four children spent Mother's Day in Palm Springs with Bob, who was there for some golf and a rest.

I told Bob that I had seen "The Seven Little Boys" again and how much I enjoyed it. His best picture — I think.

He said it has its premiere June 22 at the Carthay Circle — proceeds will go to the cerebral palsy fund.

Mrs. Vincente Minelli expects her baby this coming week.

Dr. Clifton Loos is making the trip to Europe with Maybelle and Clifton Webb. It was Dr. Loos who gave Maybelle permission to travel after her serious illness.

Margaret O'Brien and Rad Fulton, the Henry Willson discovery, have that look in their eye.

Everybody in the music world is happy over Johnny Mercer's success with "Daddy Long Legs." He wrote the words and music. He and the Sam Engels were dining at Perino's and talking over the success of the picture.

Alex North, who did the music for the Hong Kong Ballet in the same picture, goes to Samuel Goldwyn, Jr., to score "The Town Tamer."

Bob Wagner seems to be getting around. He was at the Villa Capri with Mona Freeman.

Natalie Wood is blowing herself to a Honolulu vacation when she graduates from Van Nuys High School in June.

Jennifer Jones and David Selznick have canceled their trip to Spain, and it looks more and more as if Jennifer will do "Joseph and His Brethren."

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

A graceful, limber figure is a young figure at any age. Yours can be kept that way — or returned to that happy state — a s-t-r-e-t-c-h at at time.

The flexor muscles, which take care of the bending you do, stay strong and fit most of your life. But the extensor muscles, which do the stretching, need planned exercise as you grow older. If they are not kept active, the body tends to sag, become bent and somewhat rigid, and extra pounds find places to cling between the loosened muscles to make matters worse.

1. Stand erect with your feet together, arms down. Then with real force, fling both arms forward and overhead. At the same time swing one leg straight from the hip. Return to starting position with the same powerful swing. Keep this exercise vigorous as you go along, five times with one leg, then five with the other. Work up to ten times for each leg.

2. Crouch down, knees bent and together. Curl your trunk forward until your head touches your knees. Touch the floor for balance. Straighten your legs very gradually. Next, start to uncurl your trunk, starting at the base of your spine and ending with your shoulders and neck. Then r-e-a-c-h for the ceiling. Hold for a count of ten. Relax and repeat only three times at first, but a gradual increase should take the number to ten.

WHAT IS A MASTER?

THEORETICALLY, all the players in a master-pair event of a national tournament have a high degree of skill, but there is sometimes quite a gap between theory and fact. Actually, there is as much difference between some of the masters and others as there is between night and day.

West dealer.

| ♠ A Q 7 5 ♥ K Q 7 6 5 ♦ — ♣ 9 8 3 2 | N W E S | ♠ 10 9 6 4 ♥ A J ♦ 6 ♣ Q J 10 6 5 4 |
| | ♠ K 2 ♥ 8 2 ♦ K J 8 7 4 3 2 ♣ A K | |

The hand was played 36 times, and the variety of results was nothing short of fantastic.

Top score in one section was earned by the North-South pair which achieved the miracle of bidding and making five diamonds doubled. How they did so is beyond this writer's knowledge. Even the unfortunate lead of the spade ace by West would save only one trick for South, and how he could have avoided the loss of two hearts and at least one spade staggers the imagination.

Top score in the other section was earned by a North-South pair which pushed the opponents up to five spades, doubled them and collected a 200-point penalty.

More notable than the foregoing, however, is the fact that no fewer than 11 North-South pairs permitted their opponents to buy the contract at four spades when any fairly reasonable North-South bidding should have made it clear that a five-diamond sacrifice was in order. Presumably, South had a chance to bid diamonds at an early stage, and once that action was taken, any North worth his salt should carry on to the five-level against an opposing spade game, or even against a five-club contract if East-West, in defiance of match-point considerations, elected to play at that minor suit.

If North-South had been vulnerable and East-West not vulnerable, it would have been a different matter, but, particularly at match-point play, failure to make profitable sacrifices is scarcely the mark of master players.

Iraq Cabinet Reshuffled

BAGDAD, Iraq, May 9 (AP) — Burhanuddin Bashayan was named foreign minister of Iraq today in a reshuffle of the cabinet formed by Premier Nuri Said last August.

Log houses were first introduced into America by Swedish settlers in what is now Wilmington, Del., in 1638.

In Memoriam

In memory of Myrtle Clingerman, who passed away 2 years ago today, May 10, 1953.

We do not forget you, nor do we intend,
We think of you often and will to the end,
Gone and forgotten by some you may be,
But dear to our memory you ever will be.

Sadly missed by HUSBAND, DAUGHTER and GRANDCHILDREN

In Memoriam

In memory of Myrtle Clingerman, who passed away 2 years ago today, May 10, 1953.

We do not forget you, nor do we intend,
We think of you often and will to the end,
Gone and forgotten by some you may be,
But dear to our memory you ever will be.

Marlene S. Miller vs. Thomas James Miller, also known as James Thomas Miller, No. 24,076 Equity in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure a decree of annulment for the Plaintiff, Marlene S. Miller, and against the Defendant, Thomas James Miller, also known as James Thomas Miller, who is a non-resident of the State of Maryland.

The bill states that on June 23, 1952, Thomas James Miller, also known as James Thomas Miller, was married to Marlene S. Miller, at Cumberland, Allegany County, Maryland; that the parties lived together until October of 1954 when Thomas James Miller abandoned and deserted the said Plaintiff, without just cause or reason; that one son was born of said marriage, viz: Jeffrey Alan Miller, born on the 27th day of February, 1953, at Uniontown, Fayette County, Pennsylvania; that subsequent to their marriage the said Plaintiff, Marlene S. Miller, discovered that her marriage to the Defendant, the said Thomas James Miller, was bigamous, and that he was, in fact, married and the father of a child at the time of his marriage to the Plaintiff, Marlene S. Miller; that at the time of their marriage the Plaintiff had no knowledge of her husband being at that time married with a wife in California.

It is thereupon this 16th day of April, 1955, ordered by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, sitting in equity, that the Plaintiff cause a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 18th day of May, 1955, giving notice to the said Thomas James Miller, also known as James Thomas Miller, of the object and substance of this bill of annulment, and warning him to be and appear in this Court in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 3rd day of June, 1955, to show cause, if any he may have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

JOSEPH E. BODEN, Clerk.

True Copy;

Market Makes No Headway Following Promising Start

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP) — The stock market failed to make progress today after a promising start.

Prices were higher most of the day, although the bulge wasn't very great, but near the finish there was a gradual retreat.

Montgomery Ward was an outstanding feature of trading. Sewell Avery resigned as chairman of the board in a surprise move in the fight for control of the company being waged by Louis E. Wolfson.

Trading in the stock was halted on the New York Stock Exchange when the announcement was made, and it wasn't able to reopen for nearly an hour. It began again on a block of 16,000 shares up 4½ at 80, hit a high of 81½ and closed at 80. It was the day's most active issue with 48,400 shares traded.

Steels were unchanged to higher, motors were mostly lower, rubbers higher, aircrafts mixed, chemicals mixed, railroads lower and oils higher.

The market seemed to ignore most news, such as record high steel operations and high railroad earnings, and to pursue a cautious course.

Today the average held unchanged at $164.30 with the industrial component up 40 cents, railroads down 50 cents, and utilities unchanged.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to procure a decree of annulment for the Plaintiff, Marlene S. Miller, and against the Defendant, Thomas James Miller, also known as James Thomas Miller, who is a non-resident of the State of Maryland.

The bill states that on June 23, 1952, Thomas James Miller, also known as James Thomas Miller, was married to Marlene S. Miller, at Cumberland, Allegany County, Maryland; that the parties lived together until October of 1954 when Thomas James Miller abandoned and deserted the said Plaintiff, without just cause or reason; that one son was born of said marriage, viz: Jeffrey Alan Miller, born on the 27th day of February, 1953, at Uniontown, Fayette County, Pennsylvania; that subsequent to their marriage the said Plaintiff, Marlene S. Miller, discovered that her marriage to the Defendant, the said Thomas James Miller, was bigamous, and that he was, in fact, married and the father of a child at the time of his marriage to the Plaintiff, Marlene S. Miller; that at the time of their marriage the Plaintiff had no knowledge of her husband being at that time married with a wife in California.

It is thereupon this 16th day of April, 1955, ordered by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, sitting in equity, that the Plaintiff cause a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 18th day of May, 1955, giving notice to the said Thomas James Miller, also known as James Thomas Miller, of the object and substance of this bill of annulment, and warning him to be and appear in this Court in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 3rd day of June, 1955, to show cause, if any he may have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

JOSEPH E. BODEN, Clerk.

Market Makes No Headway Following Promising Start

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP) — The stock market failed to make progress today after a promising start.

Prices were higher most of the day, although the bulge wasn't very great, but near the finish there was a gradual retreat.

Montgomery Ward was an outstanding feature of trading. Sewell Avery resigned as chairman of the board in a surprise move in the fight for control of the company being waged by Louis E. Wolfson.

Trading in the stock was halted on the New York Stock Exchange when the announcement was made, and it wasn't able to reopen for nearly an hour. It began again on a block of 16,000 shares up 4½ at 80, hit a high of 81½ and closed at 80. It was the day's most active issue with 48,400 shares traded.

Steels were unchanged to higher, motors were mostly lower, rubbers higher, aircrafts mixed, chemicals mixed, railroads lower and oils higher.

The market seemed to ignore most news, such as record high steel operations and high railroad earnings, and to pursue a cautious course.

Baker Holds Lead In Piedmont Race

Cheshire Paces Six Other Men In Council Battle

Rodney Baker, Piedmont High School faculty member making his first bid in politics, took a 41-vote lead in the fight for the mayoralty of Piedmont, W. Va., over Councilman Eugene W. Paxton, but the Paxton ticket for council was ahead with the ballot count about seven-eighths completed early today.

Unofficial count of 705 of the 841 votes cast showed:

FOR MAYOR

|---|---|
| Rodney Baker | 368 |
| Eugene W. Paxton | 327 |

FOR COUNCIL

| | |
|---|---|
| W. Garland Cheshire | 379 |
| Kingsley Skidmore | 297 |
| James L. Bissett | 292 |
| Elmo Clower | 290 |
| Ivan R. Wilson | 260 |
| O. D. Collett | 228 |
| Sebastian Barbarito | 189 |

Baker, taking the lead almost from the start, was slowly building up his margin, but the fight for two of the three council positions was developing into a dogged one. Only 7 votes separated Skidmore, Clower and Bissett in the race as all trailed Cheshire's steadily mounting total. It appeared at this time that Cheshire would lead the ticket without too much trouble.

First reports had put Baker slightly in the lead with Cheshire and Skidmore holding a large margin in the council race.

Despite Baker's early lead in the battle for the mayor's post Paxton's council ticket, made up of Cheshire, Skidmore and Collett, had two of its candidates in the lead for the three elective positions open. Cheshire is the only incumbent councilman again seeking office.

The Baker slate, filed by petition, includes Wilson, Bissett and Clower while Barbarito filed as an independent. A tight race was staged for the third council post in the early balloting with only a slight margin separating Bissett and Clower. Cheshire and Skidmore appeared to have a safe lead in the early count.

The successful candidate for mayor will serve two years and the two council candidates receiving the highest number of votes will hold office for four years each with the third highest in office for two years.

Mayor Allan L. Hill, who is completing his second two-year term, declined to be a candidate as did incumbent councilman Norman Baughman, who is ending his first term in office.

City Assumes Liability For Flood Conduit

Protects Ridgeley In Case Of Damages

In a four-to-one action, the Mayor and Council yesterday passed a resolution that has the City of Cumberland taking more responsibility for the Town of Ridgeley in connection with flood protection work in that community.

The resolution constitutes an agreement under which the City of Cumberland will indemnify the Town of Ridgeley against any suit or legal action which might occur as a result of its own agreement to indemnify the Western Maryland Railway for damages which might arise from the installation of a flood control conduit beneath two Western Maryland tracks.

City officials pointed out the agreement covers only two short sections, each from 50 to 100 feet in length, in the more than a mile-long conduit, and then only in the event that the railway should enter suit against Ridgeley as a result of damage to its property from the conduit.

Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, explained that the matter has been dragging along without a solution for about two years. The conduit was installed two years ago.

Ridgeley Refuses Responsibility

The essence of the Ridgeley town council's stand on the matter is that that body refuses to have the town responsible in case of any damages resulting from the conduit, such as blowing up from a gas accumulation.

Finan said the matter came to a head last week when Corps of Army Engineers officials were here in connection with the Potomac River levee work.

Finan said that when the Army Engineers sought a right of entry over Western Maryland Railway property for the 600-foot flood wall work, the railroad said it would like to have the agreement on the conduit.

Corps of Army Engineers representatives appeared before the Ridgeley council and were informed that they would not sign the agreement with the railroad, unless the City of Cumberland would indemnify Ridgeley in case of damages.

Long Opposes Resolution

Finance Commissioner John J. Long, who voted against the resolution, stated during a pre-vote discussion that Ridgeley is benefitting as much as Cumberland from the flood control project, and did not see why Cumberland had to shoulder all of Ridgeley's burden.

Finan commented that the city does not have much choice in the matter. The city, he added, has assumed all responsibility in other cases and this is just one more phase.

City officials pointed out after the council meeting that Cumberland has and is paying for all property acquisition for the flood protection work in Ridgeley.

The Town of Ridgeley has not paid anything in connection with the project, and one official pointed out Cumberland had to advance Ridgeley the money to install the city water line across the new bridge.

Firemen File Protest Over June Race Dates

Will Interfere With State Convention Here

Members of the Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association and members of the convention committee of the Maryland State Firemen's Association met in special session last night at LaVale Fire Hall.

Purpose of the meeting, according to David E. Kirk, bi-county association president, was to send a protest to Eldred Heinhart, of the State Racing Commission and to Governor Theodore R. McKeldin concerning the Cumberland Fair Association being granted June 22 as the opening of the annual races.

Kirk pointed out that the firemen had already completed with the Fair Association plans to use the fairgrounds on June 23 for a picnic site. When first making plans for the picnic the week of August 2-13 had been set aside for the race meet.

The firemen have been making reservations for some 3000 persons and the holding of the races on that day will cripple their plans and they feel the shift by the Racing Commission would be unfair to the firemen.

Kirk added that the change in dates by the commission will be detrimental to the convention which was brought here in the interest of Cumberland business, the Chamber of Commerce, Mayor and City Council and County Commissioners.

Another meeting of the convention committee is planned Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in LaVale Fire Hall. The bi-county association will meet at Westernport on Sunday at 2 p. m. EDT.

District Scouts Elect Tonight

Lowery said yesterday that the district scouters will hold discussions and give reports on the 1955 summer scout camp and the programs of the several projects undertaken by the district last year.

Officers to be elected for the annual term are the chairman and vice chairman and the district board will then recommend a scout commissioner for the district.

Nominations for the elective offices will be made by a nominating committee, headed by J. L. Towler, chairman, which will make its report at the meeting.

B&O Recalls 300 Freight Car Workers

Keyser Shops Will Get 50 More Men

Seventy-five freight car repairmen will go back to work at two points on the Cumberland Division Monday as a result of the recall of 300 more freight car repairmen by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

The recall order will put 50 more men back to work at the Keyser car shops on Monday morning and 25 men—half a unit, at Cumbo, near Martinsburg, W. Va.

Yesterday's recall orders also went to car repair centers at DuBois and East Salamanca, Pa.; Lorain and Painesville, Ohio, and Washington, Ind.

The B & O said the repair units being put back to work brings to 1,925 the total number of car repairmen called back since February.

The recall of the car repairmen will also boost the employment of the Bolt and Forge Shop here.

As the car shop recalls were announced, Roy W. Eves, superintendent, received authority to put seven more men back to work at the Bolt and Forge Shop, which provides materials used in car repairs.

It is understood that additional Bolt and Forge recalls are likely as the car repair units being recalled use up available materials.

Motorist Is Grateful For Courtesy Card

Mayor Roy W. Eves has received a letter of appreciation from a Chicago man who received a courtesy card instead of a ticket during a recent visit here.

The motorist, V. M. Wilkins, said ignorance of Cumberland's coloring of curbs—red and yellow—led to the violation and the subsequent issuance of a courtesy card to the visitor by Officer Frank Shober.

He expressed sincere appreciation "for something that rarely is extended to anyone, anywhere . . . an excusable violation of a city ordinance."

The Maryland Federation of Men's Bible Classes met in Hagerstown over the weekend and made plans to hold its 1956 convention in Cumberland.

J. Walter McKee, District 1 vice president, said the state convention will be held here on the first Saturday and Sunday of next May.

State Awaits Federal Action On Polio Shots

Delay May Not Affect Program In County

BALTIMORE, May 9 (AP)—State and Baltimore City health authorities today reaffirmed their decision to hold up any further Salk polio inoculations until the federal government releases more vaccine.

In a joint statement following a meeting with the Technical Advisory Committee on Poliomyelitis to to the Maryland Department of Health, the State and city departments said they would:

". . . follow the recommendation of the U. S. Public Health Service to postpone inoculations pending federal release of polio vaccine to continue the program."

Has Public Support

The statement added that "with unparalleled public support and cooperation, over 110,000 first and second grade school children in Maryland have received the vaccine (first shot) to date."

To allay fears expressed by some parents that the first shot of the vaccine would be wasted if their children do not receive the second shot on schedule, the statement explained:

"The second dose of vaccine is effective at whatever interval the vaccine becomes available." In other words, a health department spokesman explained, the partial immunity obtained from the first inoculation will not be lost even if the second shot is not given two weeks later as recommended.

Get First Shot

Only about 17,000 Maryland first and second graders have yet to receive their first shots.

Maryland halted further inoculations yesterday after Dr. Leonard A. Scheele, surgeon general of the United States, recommended a temporary postponement pending a double check of all vaccine manufacturing.

Doesn't Affect County

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer, said the department was notified Saturday to hold up its program pending action by the Public Health Service.

He said the delay may not affect the Allegany County program since the second shots were not scheduled to begin until May 17.

This was the date tentatively set on April 26 as the last of 3,615 first and second graders received their first shots of Salk vaccine.

Safe Cracking Probe Continues

State police last night continued their probe into the safe cracking which netted some $2,000 in cash to the culprits who ripped and cut their way into a large safe at Albert's Market on Route 40, about six miles west of Cumberland.

Cpl. William F. Baker, State Police criminal investigator, said at least two persons were believed involved in the safe cracking which was discovered at 7:45 a. m. yesterday by Russell Emerick, assistant manager of the meat department.

The market, which formerly housed the Crystal Park skating rink and ballroom, was entered by the thieves who forced a rear door by removing the hinges. The safe was located in the store's office.

Cpl. Baker said the culprits ripped and cut away the dial and handle and then tore the door from the safe. Two half emptied soft drink bottles were found nearby, he added.

All of the papers in the safe were found on the floor and the only cash left behind by the thieves was $9.50 in pennies. A considerable number of endorsed checks also were found scattered about, but Albert Tomsko, of LaVale, president and manager of the store, said he did not believe any of the checks which were in the safe were missing.

Nothing else was removed from the market, authorities said.

Baker Holds Lead In Piedmont Race

Cheshire Paces Six Other Men In Council Battle

Rodney Baker, Piedmont High School faculty member making his first bid in politics, took a 41-vote lead in the fight for the mayoralty of Piedmont, W. Va., over Councilman Eugene W. Paxton, but the Paxton ticket for council was ahead with the ballot count about seven-eighths completed early today.

Unofficial count of 705 of the 841 votes cast showed:

FOR MAYOR

|---|---|
| Rodney Baker | 368 |
| Eugene W. Paxton | 327 |

FOR COUNCIL

| | |
|---|---|
| W. Garland Cheshire | 379 |
| Kingsley Skidmore | 297 |
| James L. Bissett | 292 |
| Elmo Clower | 290 |
| Ivan R. Wilson | 260 |
| O. D. Collett | 228 |
| Sebastian Barbarito | 189 |

Baker, taking the lead almost from the start, was slowly building up his margin, but the fight for two of the three council positions was developing into a dogged one. Only 7 votes separated Skidmore, Clower and Bissett in the race as all trailed Cheshire's steadily mounting total. It appeared at this time that Cheshire would lead the ticket without too much trouble.

First reports had put Baker slightly in the lead with Cheshire and Skidmore holding a large margin in the council race.

Despite Baker's early lead in the battle for the mayor's post Paxton's council ticket, made up of Cheshire, Skidmore and Collett, had two of its candidates in the lead for the three elective positions open. Cheshire is the only incumbent councilman again seeking office.

The Baker slate, filed by petition, includes Wilson, Bissett and Clower while Barbarito filed as an independent. A tight race was staged for the third council post in the early balloting with only a slight margin separating Bissett and Clower. Cheshire and Skidmore appeared to have a safe lead in the early count.

The successful candidate for mayor will serve two years and the two council candidates receiving the highest number of votes will hold office for four years each with the third highest in office for two years.

Mayor Allan L. Hill, who is completing his second two-year term, declined to be a candidate as did incumbent councilman Norman Baughman, who is ending his first term in office.

The recall order will put 50 more men back to work at the Keyser car shops on Monday morning and 25 men—half a unit, at Cumbo, near Martinsburg, W. Va.

A similar order issued on April 28 recalled 100 men to the Keyser shops and 25 at Cumbo.

Yesterday's recall orders also went to car repair centers at DuBois and East Salamanca, Pa.; Lorain and Painesville, Ohio, and Washington, Ind.

The B & O said the repair units being put back to work brings to 1,925 the total number of car repairmen called back since February.

The recall of the car repairmen will also boost the employment of the Bolt and Forge Shop here.

As the car shop recalls were announced, Roy W. Eves, superintendent, received authority to put seven more men back to work at the Bolt and Forge Shop, which provides materials used in car repairs.

It is understood that additional Bolt and Forge recalls are likely as the car repair units being recalled use up available materials.

Motorist Is Grateful For Courtesy Card

Mayor Roy W. Eves has received a letter of appreciation from a Chicago man who received a courtesy card instead of a ticket during a recent visit here.

The motorist, V. M. Wilkins, said ignorance of Cumberland's coloring of curbs—red and yellow—led to the violation and the subsequent issuance of a courtesy card to the visitor by Officer Frank Shober.

He expressed sincere appreciation "for something that rarely is extended to anyone, anywhere . . . an excusable violation of a city ordinance."

Delay May Not Affect Program In County

BALTIMORE, May 9 (AP)—State and Baltimore City health authorities today reaffirmed their decision to hold up any further Salk polio inoculations until the federal government releases more vaccine.

In a joint statement following a meeting with the Technical Advisory Committee on Poliomyelitis to to the Maryland Department of Health, the State and city departments said they would:

". . . follow the recommendation of the U. S. Public Health Service to postpone inoculations pending federal release of polio vaccine to continue the program."

Has Public Support

The statement added that "with unparalleled public support and cooperation, over 110,000 first and second grade school children in Maryland have received the vaccine (first shot) to date."

To allay fears expressed by some parents that the first shot of the vaccine would be wasted if their children do not receive the second shot on schedule, the statement explained:

"The second dose of vaccine is effective at whatever interval the vaccine becomes available." In other words, a health department spokesman explained, the partial immunity obtained from the first inoculation will not be lost even if the second shot is not given two weeks later as recommended.

Get First Shot

Only about 17,000 Maryland first and second graders have yet to receive their first shots.

Doesn't Affect County

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer, said the department was notified Saturday to hold up its program pending action by the Public Health Service.

He said the delay may not affect the Allegany County program since the second shots were not scheduled to begin until May 17.

This was the date tentatively set on April 26 as the last of 3,615 first and second graders received their first shots of Salk vaccine.

Safe Cracking Probe Continues

State police last night continued their probe into the safe cracking which netted some $2,000 in cash to the culprits who ripped and cut their way into a large safe at Albert's Market on Route 40, about six miles west of Cumberland.

Cpl. William F. Baker, State Police criminal investigator, said at least two persons were believed involved in the safe cracking which was discovered at 7:45 a. m. yesterday by Russell Emerick, assistant manager of the meat department.

The market, which formerly housed the Crystal Park skating rink and ballroom, was entered by the thieves who forced a rear door by removing the hinges. The safe was located in the store's office.

Cpl. Baker said the culprits ripped and cut away the dial and handle and then tore the door from the safe. Two half emptied soft drink bottles were found nearby, he added.

All of the papers in the safe were found on the floor and the only cash left behind by the thieves was $9.50 in pennies. A considerable number of endorsed checks also were found scattered about, but Albert Tomsko, of LaVale, president and manager of the store, said he did not believe any of the checks which were in the safe were missing.

Nothing else was removed from the market, authorities said.
